THOUSANDS HONOR MEMORY OF BOOTH

Funeral Services for Salvation Army's Founder Held Yesterday

MAMMOTH MEETING OF PRAISE

True Army Revival Service Held and Backsliders Invited to Come to the Mercy Seat—Interment Today.

London, Aug. 28.—Funeral services for the founder of the Salvation Army, General William Booth, were held at the Olympia tonight. In accordance with the traditions, they were without pomp or symbols of mourning, but were carried out with moving fervor and impressiveness. Thirty-four thousand persons participated in the funeral ceremonies.

Nearly half of them wore blue coats and red jerseys and bonnets with the red ribbon, so familiar on the streets of the cities of the world where the Army is established.

The body of the late General, in a plain pine coffin, rested high on a catafalque in front of the big platform across the end of the hall where the chief officers of the organization were seated and where 40 bands of music were massed. The crimson flag of the Army of "Fire and Blood," which the General unfurled on Mount Calvary, was planted above the coffin. A bank of flowers, composed of tributes sent by members of royalty and many societies were behind it. Flags of various nations in which the commander-in-chief had waged campaigns, were arrayed in front of the platform.

The front rows of chairs before the coffin were filled with representatives of various bodies, and also the equerry of the King, several mayors in their robes and chains of office, a delegation from the Stock Exchange, ministers and clergymen of all the Protestant churches, and Jewish rabbis, and many notable personages were seated throughout the house. But the rank and file of the great gathering was composed of the plain people, for whom the Army works and of whom it is composed.

The service itself was not only a memorial, but a mammoth meeting of prayer and praise.

A feature of the services was the conducting of a true Salvation Army revival service and an invitation to sinners and backsliders to "Come to the Mercy Seat."

Dozens of persons forced their way through the crowded aisle to the mercy seats on either side of the platform, where they knelt in prayer. In some cases the police were required to force a way for the penitents. As the penitents went forward the singing and shouts of encouragement or amens increased in volume until the Olympia was turned into a colossal, old-fashioned revival.

Striding back and forth on the platform, General Bramwell Booth, swinging his arms above his head, led the singing, pausing frequently to remind sinners that the dead leader had given his life to saving them.

The most impressive feature of the solemnities then followed. All the soldiers of the army rose and recited the covenant of fidelity, pledging themselves to be faithful soldiers of the Lord.

The catafalque was then wheeled slowly down the aisle, while the great gathering sang: "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll be There." The coffin was placed in a hearse and conveyed to the Salvation Army headquarters, where it will rest until taken to Abney Park cemetery tomorrow.

SPLENDID INSTITUTION.

State Sanatorium at Montrose, N. C. and Its Work.

State Sanatorium, Montrose, N. C. August 28.—Everything is moving along smoothly here on "The hill." The patients are all imporving and making life as comfortable as possible. While the people in the towns and cities are complaining about the heat, we are enjoying the cool ozone breezes fresh from the pine forests here on this health restoring hill.

We all greatly regret that the failing health of Dr. Brooks necessitated his resignation as Superintendant of the Institution. He is a favorite among the patients and we miss him among us. We join in wishing him a speedy restoration to health and extend him a healthy "God Bless You" wherever duty may call him in the future.

The great work for afflicted humanity which he has been so instrumental in inaugurating and pushing forward at this place, however, is being carried forward with renewed energy and efficiency under the management of Dr. M. E. Street who is now in charge of the institution. Dr. Street has been identified with the institution since its inception as a member of the Board of Directors and has been a leading factor in its development and progress. He is an eminent Physician and a tuberculosis Specialist, an his whole soul is in the work. Big brained big-hearted, jovial, gartle soul that he is, he scatters sunshine and good cheer among us all.

JUDICIAL RECALL DENOUNCED AGAIN

Constitution Defended by Sutherland Before Bar Association

MORE PAY FOR U. S. JUDGES

Motion For Increased Salaries Precipitates Debate—The Race Question Comes Up Again—One Negro Resigns.

Milwaukee, Wis., August 28.—Severe critiscism of those who question the adequacy of the Federal constitution and of "those who seek to re-place it with polices dictated by passing whims and fleeting emotions," was made by United States Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, in an address before the American Bar Association tonight.

Maintaining that the chief value of the constitution is "in its operation to prevent ill-considered and impulsive action," Senator Sutherland denounced the plan for recall of judicial decisions, which he said, in effect would be "to render a judical decision by a show of hands at the polls."

"It is becoming unfashionable to speak well of the constitution," declared Senator Sutherland. "It is no longer respectable to profess the ancient faith in the learning and integrity of the courts. The good faith of the people themselves in seeking these radical changes is not to be questioned, but we may justly doubt their wisdom in having lent a too ready ear to the professional demagogue whose stringent voice has filled the the land with his ill considered and impractical theories."

A motion to urge President Taft and Congress to increase the salaries of Federal judges provoked heated debate and resulted in tabling the question "I don't know why lawyers who practice before Federal courts should want to go on record for an increase of salaries of judges before whom they appear," said William A. Kitcham, Indianapolis, "the President of the United States and Congress are well able to decide on it without instructions from the Bar Association."

"If we expect to have good judges we must pay them decent salaries," shouted J. B. Davis, Chicago. "I don't know why we hould hesitate when we all know the judges are not paid enough."

A committee was appointed to ask Congress "to empower the United States Supreme Court to prepare and put into effect a complete correlated sysem of pleading and procedure for the common law side of the Federal courts as is now being done for them on the equity side."

The purpose is to provide for uniform system of pleading in the State and Federal courts.

The race suestion again came up before the association today. William R. Morris, of Minneapolis, one of three negro lawyers who had been unseated by the executive committee and this ruling reversed by the association, sent a telegram annuncing his resignation, saying it was based on "an entirely unselfish consideration of the best interests of the association."

On motion of Joseph Merrill, of Thomasville, Ga., the resignation was accepted.

"I am opposed to the admission of negroes to this organization," said Mr. Merrill, "but I want to express our appreciation of his dignified attitude in resigning."

Morris was one of three negro members who had been unseated by the executive committee because of their race. One of the other was William H. Lewis, an assistant United States Attorney Generay, who still retains his membership.

The recall of judges was formally denounced by the association as a fallacy" and as "tending to deprive the public of judges of ability and high character."

KILLED IN NEW YORK

Newbern Lady Victim of Auto Accident in the Metropolis

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 28.—A telegram received here today from New York stated that Miss Lillie Lette, of this city, had been instantly killed and Miss Ruth Belling and Ralph McCausley, of New York, were seriously injured, when a touring car in which they were driving overturned. The party were returning from Rye Beach and the car skidded on a freshly-oiled roadway. William Meigem, the chauffeur, lost control and the machine turned turtle. Miss Lette was caught beneath the car and her neck broken. She came to Newbern several years ago from Chase City, Va., and has been conducting a fashionable millinery establishment.

Factional feeling, growing out of the contest for county office nominations, caused the military companies of Charleston to be mobilized at the Armory tonight, and held in readiness for trouble. It was feared that they might be needed to protect the executive committee in counting the votes. No trouble developed.

TENTH INFANTRY'S ORDERS RESCINDED

Taft Recalls Order Dispatching Additional Forces to Nicaragua

ENOUGH TROOPS ON THE WAY

The President Thinks American Bluejackets Enroute to Insurrection-torn County Can Control Situation.

On Board President Taft's Train, Rochester, N. Y., August 28.—President Taft tonight rescinded his twelve hour old order directing the immediate dispatch from Panama to Nicaragua of the 10th infantry. From his private car in the Rochester yards the President wired to the acting Secretary of War to recall the order. A sufficient force of marines, the President said tonight, would be in Managua, the Nicaraguan capital and Corinto, its principal seaport early next week to insure the safety of American lives and property.

The President's action tonight came at the close of a day spent largely in considering telegrams from State, War and Navy department heads in Washington. The President expressed tonight to friends on his car the belief that there would be more than 2,000 United States marines on Nicaraguan soil by Tuesday. A long telegram tonight from the commander of the United States Cruiser Denver, in Nicaraguan waters, declared that the insurgent leaders had given assurances that they will soon open the lines of communication from Corinto to Managua. The Nicaraguan government itself asked for assistance for the United States and stands ready to aid in opening the railway line to the coast from the capital.

The message to the President said that the rebels posses five locomotives and the government five. All of these may be put at the disposal of the United States if necessary. The call of the order for the dispatch of the 10th. infanitry followed the receipt of this telegram from the Denver.

The President did not conceal his anxiety tonight over conditions in the Centrail American Republic. In Managua and Corinto and other towns the situation is not now especially dangerous to Americans, but in other parts of the country the revolution is not in hand and pillaging of all sorts has been going on. The people of Nicaragua, the President was informed, are suffering untold horrors and Americans are suffering in many instances with them.

To freinds tonight Mr. Taft declared that if the Senate had agreed to the propased treaty with Nicaragua, which he advocated on his long trip last Fall, the misery existing today would never have arisen. Under that treaty the United States, he said would have administered the customs of Nicaragua, and since the customs are about that country's only source of revenue there would have been litle to attract a revolutionist who would not care to tackle the United States. During the day the President received several long messages from Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson in Washington. His order to the 10th infantry to advance on Nicaragua was issued in Beverly just before he left for Columbus, Ohio, where he speaks tomorrow. Messages from Minister Wilson were received at Albany, N. Y., and other points west of Rochester and telegrams from the Navy Department also kept coming to President Taft's private car. Neither the State nor the Navy Department wished to see United States troops sent into Nicaragua. The custom in similar cases has been to land marines. The President said today that while the sending of a regiment of infantry would not be an act of war, he would prefer to use marines if an available force could be found satisfactory. His telegrams to Washington evidently were fruitful, for he was of the opinion tonight that the Navy had found enough marines to look after every American and all American property that might be endangered. If he finds the situation criticial later he will not hesitate to use the Army, but he was hopeful that the insurrecto and government leaders will see the futility of trying to make it uncomfortable for American citizens.

Grave Concern at Washington

Washington, Aug. 28.—Grave concern over the situation in Nicaragua was expressed at the State Department today.

A single direct dispatch from Nicaragua told of a serious situation in Matagalpas. The dispatch was sent by 125 Americans and told of the killing of a German named Neilsen, and appealed to the State Department for immediate protection. Lack of further dispatches from Nicaragua was a source of anxiety to the department.

The revolutionary junta here today made an effort to open negotiations with the State Department, with the object of ending hostilities. Angel Ugarte, of the junta, sought an interview with William T. S. Doyle, chief of the division of Latin-American affairs in the department, to submit a proposal for the withdrawal of Amer-

BLEASE IS WINNER IN S. C. PRIMARIES

Practically Complete Returns Give Him Majority Over Opponents

LARGEST VOTE EVER POLLED

Governor Receives 1,000 More Votes Than Jones and Duncan—Tillman Renominated—How Others Stand

Columbia, S. C. August 29.—Recount of the vote cast for the Democratic candidates for Governor in Tuesday's State primary will be asked in some of the large counties by the supporters of former Judge Ira B. Jones, who contested the nomination with Governor Cole L. Blease.

Supporters of former Judge Jones early today protested the size of the vote in Spartanburg county. It also has been practically decided to ask a recount in Anderson county. With a score of precincts yet to hear from the total recorded early today was 138,314. Supporters of Jones allege that the vote was too large to be free from fraud in certain counties.

Governor Blease was leading former Judge Jones by 2,296 votes early today. This nominated him on the face of returns.

Former Judge Jones has polled 65,986 votes and J. T. Duncan, the third candidate 2,018, Governor Blease's vote now is 70,300.

United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman has been renominated by a vote of approximately two to one over his opponents.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 28.—Practically complete returns from the Democratic primary held yesterday in South Carolina indicate that Governor Blease has a majority of over 1,100 votes in the race for the nomination for Governor. Reports have not been received from 59 precincts. The figures are:

Governor Blease, 27,245; Ira B. Jones, 64,072; John T. Duncan, 2,036.

The total vote reported is 133,353.

The indications are that the vote for the State will total 136,000. The largest vote on record is approximately 110,000.

The returns received show that Senator Tillman has been re-elected over his two opponents. There will be a second race between J. Fraser Lyon and Thomas H. Peeples for Attorney General. S. T. Carter has been elected State Treasurer. John G. Richards, Jr., very probably will be elected on the first ballot over two opponents as Railroad Commissioner.

Representative Ellerbe in the Sixth Congressional district has come back strong and is running neck and neck with J. W. Ragsdale, his opponent.

Jones Ahead in Charleston County.

Charleston, S. C., August 28.—Former Judge Ira B. Jones, of the State Court of Appeals, received a plurality of 835 votes in Charleston county, over Governor Cole L. Blease, in the contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor of South Carolina. John T. Duncan, the third candidate for the Governorship nomination, received only 34 votes in this county. Complete returns were announced by the county executive committee tonight.

OUTLINES

Thirty-four thousand persons participated in the funeral ceremonies of Gen. William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, which were held in London last night.

Commissioner Neill, of the Bureau of Labor, is investigating the anthracite coal situation in order to present a report to the next session of Congress on the high prices of coal.

Four police inspectors and one civilian employe of the New York police department will be called to take the stand in their own defense in the course of the John Doe graft proceedings.

President Taft last night rescinded his 12-hour order dispatching the 10th infantry to Nicaragua, he believing the force of marines already en route will be sufficient to cope with the situation.

Senator Sutherland in an address yesterday before the American Bar Association, denounced the plan for the recall of judicial decisions and declared the constitution is adequate to all our requirements.

Practically complete returns from the South Carolina primaries give Gov. Blease a majority of 1,100 votes over both Jones and Duncan. The total vote is expected to reach 136,000, the largest ever polled in the State.

Louis D. Brandeis called on Gov. Wilson yesterday and discussed social and industrial problems, and assured the Governor of his support in the coming campaign. The nominee talked with an Italian delegation on immigration.

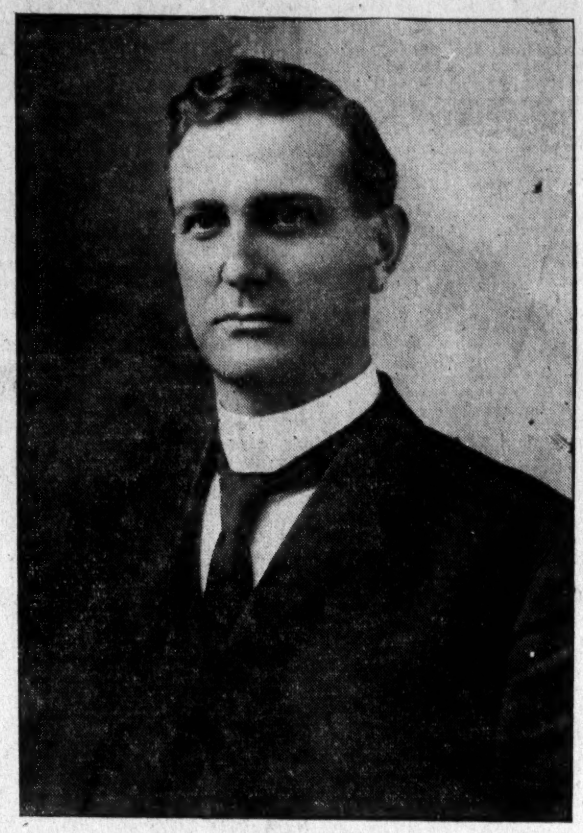
WILL SPEAK HERE THIS EVENING



HON. WILLIAM WALTON KITCHIN

WILL CALL POLICE OFFICIALS

Four Inspectors and Civilian Employe Must Take Stand in Own Defense in John Doe Proceedings—No Immunity

New York, Aug. 28.—Four police inspectors and one civilian employe of the police department, all under suspicion by District Attorney Whitman of having shared in graft levied upon disorderly houses and gambling resorts, will be called to take the stand practically in their own defense in the course of the John Doe proceedings before Justice Goff, it was reported today. John Doe procedure will permit the examination of suspected officials before they are legally accused and without obligation on the part of the State to grant them immunity.

Mr. Whitman has more than 100 witnesses whom he is prepared to subpoena for the inquiry, and it is understood that the testimony of a large number of them will point to the alleged participation of the five men in graft.

District Attorney Whitman visited Justice Goff at his Summer home tonight to informally present to the justice "an information" prepared by an assistant district attorney, describing alleged graft conditions in the police department.

The information will set forth, it is understood, a virtual history of the alleged doing of Lieutenant Becker in connection with the collection of gambling graft and the manner in which he is alleged to have shared it with the suspected police officials.

That the influence of the civilian was used to get one of the inspectors transferred to a district of the city most profitable from the graft point of view, is one charge which it is reported will be detailed in the document, and there also will be the assertion, it is said, that graft exists in the operation of the police department itself, through the selling of recommendations for promotion by superior officers.

The grand jury which indicted Becker and his alleged accomplices will reconvene tomorrow and hear testimony, it is expected, from William J. Flynn, former second deputy police commission, who has been engaged as a detective investigator for the police graft inquiry of the aldermanic commission. It expects also to hear testimony from James March, the lawyer who said that Becker made his large fortune out of stock speculation.

FARMERS ELECT OFFICERS

Convention at West Raleigh Yesterday Was Busy—The Officers

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 28.—At the business session tonight the farmers recommended that the Legislature pass a Statewide dog tax, Statewide stock law, the Torrens land system and convicts to be worked on the roads. The convention memoralized the Legislature not to divert revenue from fertilizers and feed taxes from the Department of Agriculture, endorsed the plan for a monument to Dr. Seaman Knapp and passed other resolutions. Officers were elected as follows: President, C. W. Spruill, Bertie county; first vice president, E. B. Moore, Charlotte; second vice president, J. H. Currie, Fayetteville; secretary-treasurer, I. O. Schaub, Raleigh.

REPORT ON HIGH COAL PRICES

Commissioner Neill is Investigating the Anthracite Situation and Will Present His Findings to Congress.

Washington, August 28.—A full report to disclose who is responsible for the present high price of coal is promised for the House of Representatives by the Department of Commerce and Labor on December 2, next.

Secretary Nagel has designated Commissioner Charles P. Neill, of the Bureau of Labor, to investigate in conformity with the resolution passed by the House shortly before adjournment.

Commissioner Neill has made several trips out of the city in search of information and is away now. Upon his return, September 10th, it is expected that he will have sufficiently explored the field so that the trained investigators of the bureau may begin work in a systemtic method to gather the desired details.

The principal object of the inquiry will be how much the cost of coal to the general consumer has been increased as a result of the recent strike in the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania, to which field the resolution was specifically directed. In a consideration of the resolution, originally introduced by Representative Diffenderfer, of Pennsylvania, it was in the House committee that the autracite operators had added an increase of 25 cents a ton to the price of coal at retail.

In conjunction with the inquiry into how much the price of coal was increased, Commissioner Neill is expected to ascertain for what reason and by what means the cost was raised.

Another line of inquiry will be to determine how much and in what particulars the coal miners were benefitted by the strike agreement. In suport of the resolution inquiry, it was argued that the miner did not get nearly all the increase being paid by the general consumer.

Probably before the report has been compiled and submitted to the House, the Supreme Court of the United States will have handed down its decision, now under consideration, as to the legal situation in the Pennsylvania anthracite coal fields.

These legal questions arise out of the suit brought by the government ganst an alleged combination of railroads and railroad coal companies charged with seeking to monopolize the coal trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. Many points in the government's complaint had their orgin n a former strke settlement about 10 years ago. It has been urged at times that even in that setlement "the interest of the public was sacrificed to the interests of organized capital and of organized labor."

BRANDEIS CONFERS WITH GOV. WILSON

Boston Attorney Discusses Social and Industrial Problems

WILL SUPPORT THE NOMINEE

Gov. Wilson Talks Immigration With Italian Delegation, Which Is Well Pleased With His Views —Speaks Today

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 28.—Trust legislation, constructive rather than destructive, and immigration, were among subjects to which Governor Woodrow Wilson gave his attention today. He talked about trusts with Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, and expressed himself on immigration before a delegation of Italians from Essex county, New Jersey.

Mr. Brandeis had luncheon with the Governor and was with him nearly two hours. Mr. Brandeis declared as he left the executive's cottage that he was a progressive in politics and that Governor Wilson was his idea of a progressive.

"We discussed social and industrial problems," said Mr. Brandeis, "and naturally the Sherman anti-trust law. We took up the LaFollette-Lenroot bill, the Oldfield bill and other measures to amend the Sherman law, but concluded that none of these went far enough. Governor Wilson is a constructive statesman able to solve these problems and I found him in accord with my views on the trust question. We talked about the defects in the third party platform. It was a talk about the best interests of the working man."

Mr. Brandeis said he probably would make a number of speeches in behalf of Governor Wilson, discussing the trusts and tariff.

"Both of us," said Governor Wilson tonight, discussing his conference with Mr. Brandeis, "have an object to prevent monopoly. Monopoly is created by unregulated competition, by competition that overwhelms all other competitions and destroys them, and the only way to enjoy industrial freedom is to destroy that condition."

With reference to the Sherman anti-trust law, the Governor was asked whether Mr. Brandeis had proposed means of strengthening that law.

"Not so much to strengthen it," replied the Governor, "as to supplement it. We want a law that will assist people in their business instead of tieing them up."

The Governor declared that Mr. Brandeis, more than any other man whom he knew, had studied "corporate business from the efficiency to the political side."

"I drew him out for my own benefit," remarked the Governor.

Representative C. D. Carter, of Oklahoma, talked with the Governor today about the possibility of an extra session in March if he were elected.

Mr. Carter said that tariff legislation would proceed no further with a Republican Senate in the next session beginning in December and that to put reforms into effect immediately the Democratic administration would have to call an extra session.

"That's looking pretty far ahead," said the Governor with a smile.

The delegation of Italians, through their spokesman, Antonio Petroni, told the Governor that those who had seen fit to criticise his views on immigration "had made a mountain out of a mole hill."

"Intelligent Italians," said Mr. Petroni, "prefer to have their own opinion in the matter and are willing to allow the historian the latitude that writing of impartial history requires. Intelligent men do not consirue intelligent criticisms as reproach."

The Governor in his response, said: "In my history I referred to conditions which did exist when I wrote and which afterward were corrected by legislation. These abuses were brought about mainly by steamship companies attempting to force immigration and I believe in legislation that will correct all abuses. I am learning all the time and the chief benefit of my present occupation is that I am informing myself and enlarging my education. I hope to be at it long enough to learn from people like yourselves things as they really are."

Governor Wilson left here at 5:30 o'clock for Philadelphia, where he planned to spend the night, continuing early tomorrow to Harrisburg and Williams Grove, Pa. At the latter place he will deliver his first campaign speech outside of New Jersey and will deal especially with the tariff and the relation of the farmer to the government.

GOVERNOR AT CLINTON

Spoke to Sampson County Audience Yesterday Afternoon

(Special Star Telegram.)

Clinton, N. C., Aug. 28.—Governor Kitchin addressed a fair-sized audience here today in behalf of his candidacy for the U. S. Senate. His speech was mainly an attack upon the record of Senator Simmons. He made no reference to Judge Clark. His speech was practically the same as made at other points in the State.

WILMINGTON TO THE FORE

Delegates to New London Will Tell City's Story of Supremacy

Secretary Meares Harriss, of the North Carolina Waterways Association, has designated and had printed some attractive badges for the official delegates to the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association Convention to be held the coming week at New London, Connecticut.

They are printed in Gothic boldface type on white ribbon and as the chief seaport of the state, Wilmington comes in for its liberal share of advertising as the "City of Opportunities." Diagonally across the top of the badge is the word "Delegate," while directly underneath printed horizontally are the words "North Carolina Waterways Association, Wilmington, North Carolina, 'The Gateway Port.'" This is made prominent while the "streamer" of the badge, so to speak, bears the following effective bit of advertising:

WILMINGTON
The Port to Panama

DEEP WATER
Competing Railroads
Harbor Facilities

FACTORY SITES
Commercial Center

"NATURE'S GARDEN SPOT"
Fourth in Cotton Exports
Third in Fertilizer

WILMINGTON
"The City of Opportunities."

It is needless to say that Wilmington will get much effective advertising from this source and that the "Gateway Port of North Carolina" will be brought prominently to the attention of prominent men from all over the United States.

Boston, Aug. 28.—The Red Sox lengthened their stride pennantward today by winning two games from Chicago, while its two rivals, Washington and Philadelphia, both lost. Wood, in the second, won his 14th straight, making his record 29 victories for the season. He shut out his opponents 3 to nothing.

Boston won the first game 5 to 3, on Hooper's triple, which counted one run in the first, a pass and doubles by Speaker and Gardner, which added two in the third and on two passes and two errors by Schalk, which allowed two more in the fourth.

Errors gave Chicago its first run and Weaver's double on top of two singles counted the other two.

Boston gathered all three runs in the second game in the fourth inning on a pass, two singles and Gardner's double.

HOTEL AT FRONT AND GRACE

Old Y. M. C. A. Building to be Remodeled—Rumor As to Other Project

The Hanover Trust Company, which purchased the old Y. M. C. A. last Spring, will receive the keys of the structure September 1st, and it is the intention of the company, according to an announcement made yesterday, to thoroughly remodel, strengthen and extend the building into an up-to-date hotel. It is planned to start the work as soon as possible and the company expects to spend about $150,000 on the improvements.

The part of the building occupied by the association will be vacated Saturday and the stores on the lower floor will be vacated October 1st. The company expects to have its plans matured by that time, and to start the work soon afterwards.

According to the present idea, the building will be made over into a thoroughly modern hotel, with a capacity of about 150 rooms. Nothing will be overlooked which will help to make the hotel modern and up-to-date in every particular, and the new hostelry will be quite an admirable addition to Wilmington's hotel facilities.

Relative to the hotel question, a rumor was current yesterday that the plan of Mr. W. C. Petty, of Charlotte, and others, to erect a hotel at Front and Walnut streets, for which the site was purchased some months ago, had been abandoned. However, Mr. H. F. Wilder, of the firm of Wilder & Metts, through which the site for the hotel was purchased, stated that no such intimation had been made to him. He stated that Mr. Z. A. Green, of Spartanburg, who is interested in the project and who will have charge of the building operations, had shipped his household goods here, preparatory to moving here himself to look after the work. The goods arrived several weeks ago, and nothing has been heard of the hotel people since then, but it is hardly thought that the project has been abandoned.

THE A. C. L. SIDE OF CASE

Reply to Management of Delgado Team as to Saturday's Game.

Editor, Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I will be glad if you will give publication in your next issue to the following:

Referring to the uncalled for and very unfair letter appearing in your issue of Sunday, last, over the signature of the management of the Delgado Beseball Team, brought forth by the defeat administered that team at our hands, we wish to state the following:

To begin with, the management of the Delgado team well knows that the game was arranged with the distinct understanding that a suitable umpire was to be furnished by that team. At the hour of the game, no umpire having been secured by them, and their proposition to allow one of our players to officiate having been declined, we proposed that they secure an umpire from among the spectators in the grandstand, and the choice of both teams fell on Mr. Holland, an old and experienced ball player, having seen several years service in professional ranks. His statement to the management of both teams that the pichers would be given the corners and base runners the advantage of every close or doubtful play was perfectly plain, and was accepted without question.

Immediately after the beginning of the play the Delgado team showed a disposition to kick and bulldoze on every decision made against them, without regard to the correctness of their complaints. This continued until Mr. Holland was forced on account of the unwarranted and unsportsmanlike conduct of some members of the Delgado team to step out.

As to the statement that the umpire was imported for the sole purpose of defeating them, we would state that Mr. Hollond's presence in the city was unknown to the management of the A. C. L. team. The reference to our team as a clean bunch of boys might be considered a compliment were it not for the fact that we are accused of importing the umpire.

Whenever we do import an umpire for the purpose of winning a ball game, it will most assurelly be for a game in which we need a great deal more assistance than in a game with Delgado.

As to meeting Delgado in future games, while we have demonstrated our supericrity over that team on two occasions, still, to give them another chance for the revenge which they so earnestly desire I quote from a letter written to their Manager under date of Tuesday, August 27, 1912.

"I have been instructed by the members of the Atlantic Coast Line team to arrange a game with your club to be played at League Park, Saturday, August 31st, at 3:30 P. M. on the following conditions:

First—Each club shall post a forfeit of fifty ($50.00) dollars, not later than Friday night, at a guarantee that they will appear on the field for the game; the forfeit shall take the form of a side bet, and go to the winners.

Second—Winner of game, besides the side bet) shall receive eighty (80) per cent, of the net receipts.

Third—The Delgado management shall furnish the umpire or umpires, same to be satisfactory to both clubs, and agreed upon not later than the Friday afternoon preceding the game.

Fourth—The Manager of each team shall furnish the opposing club, not later than Thursday night, a complete list of all players that will take part in Saturday's game."

We thank you very much for the space given.

Very truly yours,
President A. C. L. Athletic Association.

ANOTHER GAME SATURDAY.

Coast Line and Delgado Meet Once More at League Park.

Following complaint on the part of the Delgado team, which was defeated by the Coast Line nine at League Park last Saturday, the Railroaders have challenged the mill lads to another contest and the challenge has been accepted, the game to be played at League Park Saturday afternoon of this week at 3:30 o'clock.

This will be the third game between Delgado and the A. C. L. this season, and the Coast Line has won both of the other contests, though each time by a rather narrow margin. Delgado complained of the umpire at the last game, declaring that his decisions cost them the game. The Coast Line's answer is given elsewhere in today's issue.

The game Saturday afternoon will come somewhat in the nature of a fore-runner to the series to be played here next week between Anderson, the pennant winning team in the Carolina Association this season, and an all-star team composed of picked players from the other clubs of that circuit. The contest will be a notable one, for the two teams are determned this time to settle once and for all the question as to which is the stronger baseball aggregation. Both teams are practicing hard to get into the best possible condition for the game. A purse of $50 and 80 per cent of the gate receipts will go to the winner.

A convenient car schedule will be furnished by the Tidewater Power Company, and there be no trouble or delay in getting to and from the grounds. It is expected that a large crowd will witness this, which will probably be the last amateur game of the season.

BIRMINGHAM WINS

Takes First Game of Deciding Series From Mobile

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 28.—Birmingham took the first game of what will be the pennant-deciding series from Mobile this afternoon 5 to 3. After taking the lead in the first inning Mobile tied the score in the third, but the locals jumped ahead again in the sixth and were not headed. Both Smith and Demaree pitched good ball.

CROP CONDITIONS IN STATE

Deterioration In Cotton—Chadbourn Cotton Mills—Many for Pasteur Treatment—Other Raleigh Notes of Interest

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 28.—At the State Department of Agriculture the statement is made that reports from all sections of the North Carolina cotton belt indicate very serious deterioration in the condition of the crop through the drying up of the forms that develop into the bolls.

This is on account of the dry weather. It is thought that the rains the past few days have checked this. It is estimated that the condition of cotton has declined during the past ten days something like 15 per cent. Ten days ago it was estimated at 95 per cent and now the estimate is down to 80 per cent. This 80 per cent status is applied to the crop conditions generally of corn and other crops in addition to cotton. The late corn will, it is said, be very materially improved by the rains.

The Finance Committee of the State Board of Agriculture was in session today considering a number of matters pertaining to the work of the Department of Agriculture. Some of the divisions are likely to run out of funds before the December semi-annual meeting of the board when new budgets will be in order and one of the things for the committee at this time was to provide for these divisions to use some other funds when their's are exhausted, pending the meeting of the board. Members of the committee here were A. T. McCallum, Red Springs; W. J. Shuford, Hickory; I. K. Kerney, Franklinton; H. C. Carter, Fairfield; J. P. McRae, Laurinburg, another member of the board was unable to attend.

Charters were issued today to the following corporations: Chadbourn Cotton Mills Co., Chadbourn, Columbus county, capital $125,000 authorized and $20,000 subscribed by D. C. Whitted, E. J. Britt, C. R. Leonhardt and a number of others for general cotton milling business. The Held Lumber Co., Hickory, capital $25,000 authorized and $2,500 subscribed by E. K. Held, S. R. Morrison and H. S. Smith. The Flay Mercantile Co., of Flay, Lincoln county, capital $4,000 subscribed by Ed. C. Bess, H. L. Bess and S. S. Ballinger.

The State Laboratory of Hygiene is just now giving the Pasteur treatment to 16 persons who have been bitten by dogs believed to have had rabbies. Thus far this year 160 cases of this kind have been treated in the laboratory and since the State provided for this treatment in 1908, just 868 cases have been treated and there has never been a case in which the treatment has been applied in the laboratory and hydrophobia developed. Among those here for treatment are George F. Howell and Addie Howell, two young men of Wayne county; Paul and Lida Stilley, of Comfort (bitten and scratched by pet cats); Walter and Mona May Ellis, children of H. O. Ellis, Clayton.

This evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Church of the Good Shepherd, there was the marriage of Miss Harriet Burt Arrington, of this city, and Mr. Richard Henry Gregory, of Shanghai, China, the wedding being a social event of special interest. It was an especially pretty ceremony by Dr. I. McK. Pittinger, the rector, and was witnessed by a concourse of admiring friends, who taxed the capacity of the church. Miss Maud Arrington, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mr. George C. Gregory, of Richmond, Va., best man. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. R. W. Arrington, of Rocky Mount. The ushers were A. H. Arrington, Raleigh; H. H. Battle, Rocky Mount; W. O. Moore, Shanghai, China, and H. E. Litchford, Raleigh. Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Miss Bessie Bunn, Rocky Mount; Miss Mary Battle, Rocky Mount; Miss Mary Philips and Mrs. W. B. Philips, Battleboro; Miss Lennie Jackson, Warrenton; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Arrington, Rocky Mount; Mr. Sam L. Arrington, Rocky Mount; Mr. and Mrs. James Bodie and Mrs. E. G. Bodie, Henderson, and Miss Mary E. Dodson, Kinston.

Following the wedding there was a reception at the Arrington home and thereafter Mr. and Mrs. Gregory left for a bridal trip. They will sail on the steamship Korea for Shanghai, China, where Mr. Gregory represents the British-American Tobacco Co. His bride is a most attractive and accomplished young woman, quite a favorite in Raleigh social circles.

COL. Z. P. SMITH RESIGNS

Hustling Secretary of Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Retires

Fayetteville, N. C., Aug. 28.—Col. Z. P. Smith has resigned the position of secretary of the Cumberland County Agricultural Society (the Fayetteville Fair organization) and is succeeded by Mr. J. B. Tillinghast, who has been elected to fill out the unexpired term.

Col. Smith came here early in the Spring of 1911 to assume the combined duties of secretary of the agricultural society and secretary of the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce. As secretary of the Fair last year he did excellent work, and as a result of his efforts the Fair of 1911 was a great success in point of attendance and revenue. This success put the management in position to undertake much needed improvements in the way of new buildings, etc., which are now being constructed.

Mr. Tillinghast was secretary of the Fair preceding Col. Smith and did splendid work in that capacity.

MAJ. STEDMAN AT HOME

Talks of Work of Congress—Colored A. & M. Insurance Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., August 28.—Major Charles M. Stedman returned to his home in this city early Tuesday morning after attending to legislative duties in Washington for the past several months and was warmly greeted by friends whenever he made his appearance. Major Stedman had a message of cheer regarding the prospects for a Democratic victory this Fall in the National election. He was asked how the Mann Sunday closing amendment got into the postoffice appropriation bill and in a few words he told all he knew of it. He stated that he was not in the House on Saturday night when the bill passed, being out making arrangements to leave for home but supposed the amendment was favorably reported on by the conference committee, it being customary for the House to pass legislation recommended by a committee without investigating.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College for the negro race will begin its 18th annual session September 2nd. Many improvements have been made on the college property since the last session, the improvements including new buildings and implements for study. The largest attendance in the history of the college is looked for.

Messrs. P. D. Gold and George A. Grimsley, both prominent insurance men of this city, together with others, will leave shortly to attend the seventh annual meeting of the American Life Convention to be held in Chicago September 4th, 5th and 6th. Mr. Gold, who is vice president and general manager of the Jefferson Standard, is president of the body of insurance men that has members throughout America, while Mr. Grimsley is a member of the executive committee. The association is composed of 88 companies with combined insurance in force of a billion and a half dollars and assets aggregating more than $400,000,000.

J. B. Colvard, who recently was appointed vice counsel to British Columbia, spent yesterday here on his way to Vancouver from his home at Jefferson. Until he received his appointment Mr. Colvard was secretary to Congressman R. L. Doughton.

L. J. MOORE DEAD

Kinston Citizen Passes — Tobacco Board of Trade—Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., August 28.—L. J. Moore, for many years prominently identified with this city's business life and one of the leading factors in its growth, died at his home on Independent street after a lingering illness of Bright's disease. He had suffered acutely for more than a year, and a short while ago was forced to retire from business because of the condition of his health. Mr. Moore was a native of Lenoir county, and was 61 years of age. For 40 years he had been a well-known figure in local business circles, and a leader in civic improvements. He was active in local politics, and had served as mayor and alderman and held other positions of honor under the municipality. He was an alumnus of the University of North Carolina, and was one of the city's best informed men. He is survived by five children. They are: Mrs. Joseph Darden, Jr., Mrs. Herbert Wooten, Miss Florence Moore and Messrs. Guy G. and P. A. Moore. Three sisters survive also. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Jno. H. Griffith, of St. Mary's Episcopal church, and the interment was in Maplewood cemetery, this city.

At the annual election of officers of the Kinston Tobacco Board of Trade, held in the city hall, E. V. Ferrell was elected president and E. V. Webb secretary. Over 100,000 pounds of the weed were sold in the local warehouses yesterday, and the offerings were an improvement generally over preceding offerings this season. This was the largest sale here since the opening.

News has been received from Atlanta, Ga., of the death of Mr. E. A. Perry in that city Monday morning. Mr. Perry was the father of Mrs. Bernard P. Smith, wife of the pastor of the First Christian church here. Mrs. Smith has been at his bedside a month or longer.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TOURS.

Meetings Comes to Close in Western Part of the State.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville August 27.—The meetisgs which have been held over the western part of the State by the Sunday School Tour party under the auspices of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, came to a close last night at Canton. The party has held meeting at ten places, at Bryson City, Murphy, Anderews, Robbinsville, Franklin, Webster, Dillsboro, Sylva, Waynesville, and Canton. The first meeting was held August 11, and the party has been on the road ever since. J. W. Long, who was in the party was on Asheville today and stated that they had good enthusiasttic meetings at every place. County organizations were perfected in every county, site. Thirty sessions were held in all.

The regular speakers were Dr. C. W. Byrd of this city and N. B. Broughton of Raleigh. They were assisted at times by Judge J. C. Pritchard and Bishop Atkins.

CAMPBELL MUCHLY WANTED

White Man Arrested at Lumberton — Probably Operated In East

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Aug. 28.—Sheriff McNeill received letters this evening from Jacksonville and Rosindale, regarding C. C. Campbell, whose arrest was reported in this morning's Star. The Jacksonville letter states that Campbell was convicted of storebreaking in Onslow in 1894 and sentenced to the penitentiary. The Rosindale letter thinks Campbell's home is in Columbus county, and says he has operated in several Southern States and was in that section last week. It is suggested that he is responsible for some recent thefts at Clarkton and Council's. The penitentiary authorities will be communicated with at once to see if he is wanted there.

THE SOUTH ATLANTIC COAST.

Senator Simmons Tells of the Remarkable Development.

Washington, D. C., August 28.—Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, the ranking Democrat on the Committee on Interoceanic Canals, who was one of the three conferees on the part of the Senate on the Panama Canal bill, and who is an enthusiast in the development of our waterway system, discussing the subject of the development of our rivers and harbors as a means of transportation, said today:

"Our coast line is the greatest of any country in the world, while our inland system of rivers, lakes and sounds is incomparably superior to that of any other nation. While we have developed to a high degree of efficiency many of our seaports, and our lake system, and have done something towards the improvement of our rivers, little has been done, compared with what should have been done and what is necessary to be done, to develop these waterways to the highest point of potentiality.

This neglect has not been because the people do not realize the importance and value of water transportation both as a means of cheap distribution and of regulating and reducing rail rates, but because it was early demonstrated that in the absence of effective legislation to prevent railroad control of water carriers the full benefit of the improvement and development of our waterways could not be realized.

"Notwithstanding this handicap in the beneficial use of our waterways, the people have been so thoroughly convinced of their importance both as a medium of transportation and of waterpower, that instead of abating their interest in the face of these adverse conditions, relying upon the future action of Congress to remove these difficulties, the movement for their greater development has year by year grown and strengthened. Real impetus was given to this movement by the determination of the Government to extend the coastline of the nation by linking together the two oceans by a canal capable of floating the largest modern vessels, through the Isthmus of Panama That greatest of world undertaking is rapidly approaching completion, and it is not too much to say that its completion will usher in a new era in the commercial intercourse between our eastern and western seaboards and with the nations of the earth. The new conditions thus created, added to the old conditions with reference to our water resources, admonish us that the Government cannot, without ignoring its manifest duty, longer neglect to do what may be necessary to develop to their fullest extent our waterways, to the end that this great natural asset may subserve its wanted purpose in our national system of transportation.

"After providing in the canal bill for the government of the Zone and the operation of the canal, two questions of importance arose, one with reference to tolls on American ships, the other with reference to the railroad ownership of vessels using the canal. The two Houses had disagreed upon these questions, and a conference was held. The conferees undertook to deal in a broad way with these two problems, with the result that after a long discussion four of the conferees joined in a report which was adopted by an overwhelming majority of both houses, permitting the free passage through the canal of American vessels engaged in coastwise trade, allowing American registry to foreign-built ships owned by Americans, engaged in the foreign trade, admitting all ship materials free of duty, and providing that no railroad should own or control any water carrier operating in competition with a rail line either through the canal or elsewhere, and investing the Interstate Commerce Commission with plenary power of regulation of water carriers.

When this act becomes effective, which it will as soon as the canal is completed and opened, and as to the inland carriers in 1914, it is confidently believed that private capital, which has heretofore been warned off by railroad monoplization, will be liberally invested in furnishing adequate water transportation whereever the conditions will permit of its use, and that the result will be not only a great increase in the transportation facilities of the country but a large reduction in the rates of transportation both by water and by rail. When the people have become convinced that this is to follow and they will get the full benefit of the money expended in the development of our waterways, there will be a demand far greater than that which now exists that the Government appropriate and expend whatever may be necessary for the full improvement and development of these instrumentatities as one of greatest if not the greatest of our natural assets."

Constantine, the opera tenor, has been sued for $100,000 for breach of promise. Another high "C" tragedy.

DON'T NEGLECT CATARRH

Even in its early stages Catarrh is a most distressing complaint, known by its symptoms of stuffy feeling in the head and nose, roaring in the ears, mucus in the throat, difficult breathing, etc. When the blood becomes thoroughly polluted with catarrhal matter the inflammation extends to the bronchial tubes, causing hoarseness and often an aggravating cough, the stomach is affected, resulting in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and gradually all the mucous membranes of the body become diseased. Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease and must be treated constitutionally; it is beyond the reach of local treatment. Only temporary relief can ever be had from the use of sprays, washes, etc. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and at the same time building up the entire system. It goes down into the circulation and removes all impurities. Then as pure, nourishing blood circulates through the body, the inflamed membranes heal, all discharges cease and every symptom of Catarrh passes away. Don't neglect Catarrh; cure it with S. S. S. as thousands have done. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

If the lid is on tight sit on the lid and keep it on.

The "coming young man" is always going—to see some girl.

Society people will be interested in the announcement that among this Fall's weddings will be that of Miss Kahilaonapaoilliana, of Hawaii.

Lest we forget, "Thou shalt not steal." A politician can steal "thunder" and electrify millions of people with new ideas filched from those who own the "clothes."

Judging from the acts of the innocent bystanders in this campaign, a faker could give a few toots on a long horn and start a long procession in the name of Gabriel.

A famous singer insists that she cannot do her best till she fills up on champagne. Probably that accounts for the liquidity of the notes which come from her throat.

What is a talkative gentleman to do? If he tells a lie on his friends they get mad as Tucker, and if he tells the truth on them they will do their best to prove he is a liar.

An employe on the Panama canal construction has invented a pneumatic hammer which delivers 3,500 blows in a minute. President Taft should get it at once, or else he never will be able to hit back at all those who are knocking him.

It was announced that a New York policeman is worth $100,000 and immediately numerous letters came from women proposing to marry him. Whether she is married or wants to marry, there is nothing more attractive to a woman than a "barrel."

Republican "rags" criticise Woodrow Wilson for deciding not to go on a wild campaign tour across the continent. They would have criticised him if he had decided to do so. Their main object is to indulge in the usual partisan yawp that has nothing in it but yawp.

A St. Louis woman died and left her fortune to fifteen pet cats. Upon the death of the cats the fortune will go to two women who are to take care of the cats. Since their fortune depends upon the death of the cats, it is only necessary to remark that no woman would ever kill a cat for fear of having bad luck.

Even the "non-partisan tariff board" has been accused of suppressing information picked up in European manufactories because it would give protection a black-eye. One bit of information suppressed was the fact that the German textile labor is paid quite as well as such labor in the United States. The same might be said of England and France, because if textile workers there could come over here and better their condition the mills in the old country would surely run short of labor.

It is certain that there is a lie out somewhere as to whether Roosevelt did or did not know whether the Standard Oil Company contributed $125,000 to Teddy's campaign fund. However, nevertheless, notwithstanding, Mr. Archbold, treasurer of the Standard Oil Company, testified that he turned over the money to Roosevelt's managers to be placed where it would do the most good towards electing him. There is no dispute whatever about the fact and not a soul has risen up on his hind legs to call Treasurer Archbold several different kinds of liars about telling the truth under oath. Roosevelt says he didn't know it of his own knowledge, but it has transpired that Archbold did furnish the information first hand.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

At the request of and under authority of Robert Ewing chairman of the Press Contributions Bureau of the Democratic National Committee, Fifth Avenue Building, New York, the Star will be glad to receive, acknowledge and forward through the proper channels any and all contributions to the Woodrow Wilson Campaign Fund.. These contributions will be either forwarded direct or through Hon. Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., National Committeeman from North Carolina and acknowledged also through the Raleigh News and Observer, through which agency Mr. H. C. McQueen, of New Hanover, has already started the contributions from this county with a donation of $10. Other contributions will be acknowledged from day to day in these columns and forwarded promtly without cost to the donor.

"No wonder that public men and political parties often put themselves under monetary obligations to wealthy men and "the interests." The public at large knows that the battle is for their own good, and yet often hesitatesto lend any monetary assistance."

"Having nominated Governor Wilson, shall we leave him embarrassed for necessary campaign funds? And if people at large won't subscribe to pay his campaign expenses (a contest made for them) shall they go unpaid? Or if paid, shall they be paid by rich men, who would at least think they had a claim on the president if he were elected?

"The large use of money by a few rich men or by corporations is the curse of our politics."

PORT OPPORTUNITIES.

An ocean gateway is not a local affair but it is the natural outlet for the surplus production of a wide area, possibly including many States. It either is or can be made the point of export of a large tributary territory, and in turn it is the entrepot for just as much of the world's trade as may figure in the needs of the port itself and hundreds of cities in the interior. The manufacturers and business men of many a city in the interior would become exporters and importers if the opportunity were opened up to them. There are quite a number of interior ports in this country under the commercial system of the United States Treasury Department which has supervision of the commerce and navigation of this country. Some of the leading foreign nations have Departmens of Mapine, but in the United States we have a department of Commerce and Labor and a Department of Agriculture while our marine and commercial systems are side-lines of the Treasury Department. This country is considering means, measures and plans to promote and foster an American Merchants' Marine, but its first thought is to turn to subsidies, which mean government aid at the expense of the people in order to assure a profit or give aid to a business which ought to depend upon itself. We do not seem to have seriously considered a Department of Marine and the possibilities in the efforts of such a branch of the government, established to make a specialty of marine and commercial matters. Probably, if we will divorce these great interests and take them out of the sideline class, we can beter exploit the foreign trade of the country and build up a merchant marine that will not have to depend upon governmet graft. It is about time for us to begin to believe that these great interests, involving, at present, export and import trade of nearly $4,000,000,000 a year, could be better promoted by a Department making a specialty of it.

It was not our intention to drift into advocacy of a Department of Marine in this article, but merely to hint at it in passing. Nevertheless, we believe the incoming Democratic administration at Washington would do something realy constructive if it should establish a Department of Marine and rehabilitate the merchant marine of the United States and promote the world trade of the country. In this connection, Democratic opportunity will be big, in view of the new routing of the world's commerce on account of the impending operation of the Panama Canal.

Reverting to the purpose of this article, it will be recalled that we referred to the fact that there are quite a number of interior ports in this country. In the South we can name such ports as Atlanta and Louisville, not to mention others. They have collectors of customs, because their commercial interests are so large that considerable importing and exporting are done by their merchants. Of course, these inland ports, and others that may be established, are tributary to some ocean gateway. Why shouldn't the port of Wilmington be their ocean outlet? If not, why not? A port with the proper water terminals and warehouses would attract the export and import business of interior points, and not only do that but promote and enlarge such trade in our important inland cities. For instance, we have no doubt that Atlanta would do a much greater import business if the opportunity were opened up to her. A properly equipped ocean gateway would open up that opportunity, and merchants who onw import or export would import and export all the more, while others who never before exported or imported would surely seize a good opportunity to do so.

We only mention Atlanta as a example as it isa very considerable manufacturing and business centre of the South. It might be conceived that Atlanta would be tributary to the Savannah ocean outlet. Quite possible, but it also would be tributary to Wilmington or Charleston. As a matter of fact it will be tribuary to any port which will offer the steamship service and the harbor facilities for handling its trade. A port properly equipped could send out a port drummer, and it can be ventured that he would do business for the port which could haudle business more expeditiously and economically than another. The facility for doing business is everything, and the port which has the facilities will do the business.

Ports do business when they try to do it. New Orleans has her municipal piers and warehouses built and waiting for the Panama Canal. She is ahead of the game. The canal will not have to do any waiting for her, She has even established a steamship line to eastern ports of Central and South American countries. Her direct steamship facilities have attracted exports from as far away as Florida. Exports surely will go where they can be handled, and the same applies to imports. Stick a telegraph pole here and remember this.

The port of Wilmington has reached as far away as Birmingham for exports and has been the ocean outlet for two cargoes of pig iron shopped clear around South America to Chile. We can make Birmingham, Atlanta, Louisville and other interior producing points tributary to the port of Wilmington by equipping our harbor with modern water terminals, and warehouses under public control. We can do it with privately owned facilities or corporately controlled terminals. The advantage of publicly controlled terminals is that it protects water transportation from being monopolized, and that is the reason the policy of the government demands public terminals in consideration for further appropriations for rivers and harbors. Gently blow up a keg of dynamite so this can be remembered.

SENATOR LAFOLLETTE HITS HARD.

Cheated out of Progressive leadership by Roosevelt, who, in turn, claims that he was afterwards cheated out of the Republican nomination at Chicago, Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin occupied a unique position in this campaign. He came into prominence as an opponent of Taft and led the Insurgent fight against the Taft administration. He cannot consistently support the Republican nominee, and he is bitterly opposed to Roosevelt who took a near cut to the head of the Progressive procession to head him off.

Although he has not declared himself, it is generally understood that the Wisconsin Senator will support Woodrow Wilson for President. The Senator has been active in politics for more than twenty-five years and at this time he finds himself fighting precisely the conditions which the Democratic party is fighting. Therefore, he would be entirely consistent in supporting Wilson, and would apper inconsistent not to do so.

Republican papers are assulting LaFollette, but their attacks consist of belittling him instead of consisting of charges that would injure him. The most serious thing charged against him by Roosevelt papers is that while fighting the Third Termer and stoutly declaring against corruption and political bosses, he "hob-nobbed around Washington" with Senator Penrose, who made a speech last week attacking Roosevelt. Penrose is a standpatter and it is not all likely that LaFollette took any stock in the Pennsylvania Senator-boss except to endorse his exposure of the Rough Rider in connection with the Standard Oil Company's subscription of $125,000 to his campaign fund in 1904. Anyhow, the Wisconsin Senator has a pat on the shoulder for everybody who hits the man who robbed him of all his Progressive glory.

In his attack on Roosevelt a few days ago, in his speech urging the passage of the Democratic wool bill over the Presiden's veto, LaFollette combined renunciation of both those candidates. He quoted some figures that the public will contemplate with keen interest. Speaking with reference to trust busting by Roosevelt and Taft, the Wisconsin Senator showed from the record that when Roosevelt become President there were 149 trusts and combinations in the United States, but when Roosevelt retired from office the number of trusts and combines had grown to 10,020! During the same period the aggregate capitalization of these concerns grew from $3,000,000,00 to the enormous total of $31,000,000,00 While there has been no diminution of that growth during President Taft's administration. Senator LaFollette decired that Taft had made a more sincere effort than Roosevelt to curb restraint of trade and monopoly.

While LaFollette was delivering his speech, all but fourteen Republican Senators got up and slided out of the chamber. The Senator noticed it, and the Wisconsin statesman immediately inquired whether their absence could be construed as prophetic of what was to come. He pointed out that he had witnessed the gradual passing of Republican Senators and predicted that the number would grow less. He also served notice that he intended to continue the progressive fight, single-handed and in his own way, just as he has waged it heretofore. He declared that he would keep up the fight in order to force the Republican party to do its duty to the people. LaFollette is in earnest and he is yet to be heard from.

GALVESTION EXPORTING WHEAT

Galveston is not only the largest of the world's cotton ports, but her enterprising business men are making it a great grain port. They got an idea that Galveston could export grain as well as cotton, so the one-ideael commercial use of the port gave way to the broader idea which includes wheat and other grains for export purposes. Grain elevators and piers were put in for the business, and the result is that Galveston is having the greatest rush of grain shipments in its history.

European dealers, with in two weeks, ordered 1,500,000 bushels of wheat through Galveston exporters. The purchasers in Europe say the failure of the crop there has caused them to depend upon the United States where the harvest is one of the greatest in the history of American agriculture. The activity in the wheat market at Galveston reveals the fact that Texas alone has produced 250,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

Since Galveston has become a wheat port, it affords a near market for wheat and necessarily it has promoted wheat-growing by the Texas farmers. Wheat exportation from Wilmington would do the same for North Carloina, but we do not have to wait on North Carolina wheat. Western wheat can be brought here and exported as easily as it is from Boston which is doing a large export business in wheat and flour.

"So long as the United States helps to feed the balance of the world there will be no question as to her prosperity," says the Savannah Morning News. It might be added that so long as the South produces the cotton needed in Europe for clothing and produces food stuffs so absolutely necessary in Europe, the prosperity of the South is doubly assured. More money crops are grown in the South than in any other portion of Americia, and that is the reason that homeseekers have their eyes upon North Carolina.

If the Charlotte Observer has anything against Charles K. Hamilton, the aviator, it will only have to quietly contemplate what's going to happen to him. Hamilton has ordered a new aeroplane with which he has planned to loop-the-loop in midair. He believes he can turn a complete summersault in the air and get off at it. He has been planning the feat for a long time and desires to be the first aviator to accomplish it. Hamilton once was ready to attempt this daring aerial stunt but postponed it because his mother and wife were present. He once broke an engagement to do some flying for the Observer, but now that Editor Wade H. Harris is steering the Observer, that paper no doubt will refuse to take pleasure in the death of the wicked. Good-bye, Hamilton, unless your mother and wife get on to your curves and have you locked up.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Colonel Staples says he believes Senator Simmons has the best political credit of any man he ever saw—they charge everything to him.—Greensboro News.

Miss Elizabeth Upham Yates, of Providence, who scored against the third termer, is a past mistress in the use of political argument. She coined a new parallel in figure of speech when she mentioned his seeking the nomination "on all fours."—Boston Transcript.

Wonder if Roosevelt, when he was penning this for his book, "The Wilderness Hunter," knew he was describing himself to a finish—"Another noticeable characteristic of the bull moose is his inordinate and unchangeable selfishness. . . * . * . . Whether roaming the woods in solitude or tearing up the earth or coming headlong to the call, he is thinking first, last and all the time of his own skin and the fullness of his own stomach.' Nothing could be finer. It fills the bill to perfection.—Greensboro Record.

City Council appears to be alive to the importance of conserving all its interests in properties that may be needed for wharves. The other day it turned down an offer for a portion of Fig Island, and on Monday it is going to take steps to protect the 400 feet of river front at a point two miles above the city's limits which it owns. It will have to make improvements in order to get the river deepened to that point, though it will probably be some little time yet before wharves that far up the river will be in demand. However, it is certain that wharves will be needed there in the course of a few years. There is no telling when another railroad system will seek entrance into Savannah and unless the river were deepened above the city's limits it might have difficulty in getting terminals on the river front. When the city gave away practically all of Hutchison Island to one corporation it didn't take into consideration the fact that it might be a good thing for it to have control of a big section of the river front, either on this or the other side of the river. In fact, the real value of Hutchison Island wasn't fully appreciated. Still, there is no regret over the deal that was made with the Seaboard Air Line for the island. The Seaboard in developing the island, has brought a great amount of business here and has greatly improved the island's sanitary condition. The city, however, realizes the importance of holding a portion of the river front so that it will not be entirely at the mercy of those who now own all of the wharves. With Fig Island and the section of river front up the river it will still be in a position to control to some extent the wharf situation if efforts are ever made to squeeze commerce or to shut out rival transportation lines by the owners of the wharves.—Savannah News.

THE JURY SYSTEM.

Judicial Reform is Urged by Asheville Lawyer—Cases in Point.

(Special Star Correspondencen)

Asheville, August 27.—A prominent atorney of this city, one of the most successful in the State, remarked a few days ago that the judicial system of the United States is the crudest thing in our civilization that there has been practically no improvement in it since it was copied from the English system. At the time he had particular reference to the method of selecting juries, but he went on to say that it is rare that a satisfactory jury is obtained for a capital case.

At the same time juries rost counties enough to be satisfactory, or so it would seem to the laity who pay the freight. County Treasurer T. M. Duckett made a total of the money that has been paid to jurymen for the four weeks of Superior Court—two weeks of civil court and two weeks of criminal. So far he has paid out over $1,400, and he was not sure that all had been paid.

Teher were three special venires for the criminal term but only one was used. This means that 200 men drew pay and millage, and were not needed. If it could have been decided to try two cases for which they ewer summoned by regular jury before the venires were ordered, it would have saved that much.

The committee from the North Carolina Bar Association, which was appointed to suggest certain reforms which might be submitted to the next Legislature, has devised a system for selecting jurors which promises to do away with much expense and time and trouble. The plan provides for a jury commission, and it has met the approval of many who have examined it.

Seamen Thrown to Decks and Stunned in Harbor of Mobile

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 27.—Crews of both ships were thrown to the decks and stunned when the British steamer Olive Grove and the British schooner M. A. Achorn, lying in harbor here, was struck by the same bolt of lightning during a thunderstorm yesterday. Sailors on the Olive Grove were so panic stricken that they quit loading lumber and refused to resume until today. Both vessels were slightly damaged.

WOMAN ESCAPES DREADFUL OPERATION

How She Was Saved From Surgeon's Knife by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mogadore, Ohio.—"The first two years I was married I suffered so much from female troubles and bearing down pains that I could not stand on my feet long enough to do my work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation, but my husband wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's VegetableCompound first. I took three bottles and it made me well and strong and I avoided a dreadful operation. I now have two fine healthy children, and I cannot say too much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." — Mrs. LEE MANGES, R. F. D. 10, Mogadore, Ohio.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

LONG SESSION OF COUNCIL

Meeting Yesterday Morning Lasted for Three Hours, Most of Time Consumed in Discussion of Street Matters.

Nearly all of a three-hour session of the City Council yesteday morning was consumed in a discussion of street matters, precipitated when the resolution providing for the paving of Chesnut street, between Front and Second, came up for second and final reading. In spite of the protest of a delegation of citizens that no further work be done until the detailed statement as to the status of the street bond issue money has been completed the resolution was adopted, after a lengthy discussion, by a vote of three to two.

The Southern Paving & Construction Company has the contract for the improvement of the street and it is expected that they will begin the work immediately. The street is to be improved with asphalt blocks. It has been intimated that citizens may seek an injunction to prevent the work being done until the statement is issued, but whether the fight will be carried any further remains to be seen.

All members of Council were present when Mayor Smith called the meeting to order at 9:15 o'clock. In atendance also were Messrs. R. A. Parsley, H. L. Vollers and D. L. Gore, three of the four citizens who held a conference several days ago with the three Councilman who voted for the Chesnut street work, and a number of other interested citizen. When the contract for the Chesnut street work was called on its second reading, the discussion was started. Mayor Smith said that unless there was objections the contract would be considered passed on its final reading. In order to give the citizens present an opportunity to be heard Councilman Perdew entered objection to final passage of the resolution.

Junius Davis, Esq., was first heard from. He said that his firm had been retained by protesting citizens to render an opinion as to the street bond money question. He said that his son, Thos. W. Davis, Esq., had looked into the question more fully than he, but that from what he had been told, he informed his clients that he thought the investment of $13,500 in real estate from the street bond money was not legal, as well as the doing of the work by the regular street hands under the bond issue money. He emphasized that what the citizens wanted was that the street work be held up until the statement as to expenditures and balance of the street imporvement fund has been completed and filed. He stressed the fact that the integrity of Councilman was neither being impugned nor criticised. However, if mistakes had been made they should be discovered before any further work is done.

T. W. Davis, Esq., went more fullly into the matter. He said that in his opinion the bond money could not legally have been devoted to purchase of real estate, or to paying for work done by the street department. If any of the bond fund had been spent for other departments, the proper credits should have been made, and if the credits had not been more then the bond fund is due money from the general fund of the city. Mr. Davis expressed doubt that $13,500 of the bond money could legally be used to purchase real estate. The bond bill he said, required expressly that the money should be used for permanent street work, ditching, grading, etc.

Councilman P. Q. Moore made reply. He said no complaint was heard from Mr. R. A. Parsley as long as Fourth street was being paved with vitrified brick as far as the railroad bridge to Hilton as long as Fourth street was being paved with brick in front of Mr. Parsley's home, and as long as Market street in front of Mr. W. L. Parsley's home was being paved with bitulithic. But now when the work is nearing a completion, and to the fact that the bond fund is about depleted, then he comes in with his complaints, he said. Mr. Moore said further that if there had been any mistakes they were ones which benefited the taxpayers of the community. He said that he could show contracts for all the work done and also where much money had been saved for the city. The property in the northern part of the city had been bought with the bond issue money only after the city attorney had given his opinion that the trasaction was perfectly legal and proper. He suggested that inasmuch as Mr. Pareley is so anxious to clean-up things and so careful to have every legal point followed, that he might have better observed the law himself and not have placed his ice factory across Fourth street, at Hilton, entirely blocking the thoroughfare. Councilman Moore said that the city would have to pay for the asphalt blocks now on hand and these are sufficient to pave the block on Chesnut street. The laying of the blocks would cost only $400.

In the opinion of Councilman Tiencken the Council had made a mistake in laying the expensive paving, which was earnestly requested by citizens, instead of a cheaper paving, which would answered every purpose. The asphalt blocks and brick on Front street could have been laid on a sand foundation instead of concrete and saved the city a considerable sum. But it was in an effort to give the people what they were asking for that Council voted for the more expensive foundation. Councilmen Tiencken said futher that he was heartly in favor of the Chesnut street work, which would cost only $400 over and above the amount the city would have to pay for the blocks, which had been contracted for by the city by the Front street work. Councilman Tiencken said that money would be saved by leting the contract at this time for the Chesnut street paving.

Mr. Wm. Crownstream stated, in the way of a reply to Councilman Tincken that all the money was being expended in the down-town district, leaving nothing for the streets in the outying districts, and asserted that this was a disgrace to the city. He said that if Council had to be the asphalt blocks from the contracting firm that they could me used just as well in the northern part of the city as in the down town district. Councilman Tiencken said he would not consider it good judgement on the part of Council to place this class of paving in the outskirts of the city where there is only light traffic, especially when a less expensive paving would do just as well.

Councilman B. C. Moore said that he would like to take issue with the proposition that the difference in the cost of proposed Chesnut street paving and the cost of blocks for Front street, between Red Cross and the railroad bridge, would be only $400. He said that he had measured both streets and found that the cost of blocks to pave the block on Front street would be about $1,000 while the block on Chesnut would cost about $1,700, a difference in cost of material, exclusive of the $400 for laying, of $700. He said that the block on Front street would have to be improved when the Coast Line building is completed and that the blocks on hand could easily be stored and used at that time.

It was suggested to Councilman B. C. Moore that Front street, from Ann to Castle, was made four feet narrower than orginally intended in order to preserve the shade treets and that the asphalt blocks saved here with the stretch in front of the new Coast Line building would be ample to improve Chesnut street. Councilman B. C. Moore replied by saying that the curbing is set at identically the same place as before the imporvement, indicating that the street is of its original width.

Councilman P. Q. Moore explained that Front street was made 40 feet wide all the way from Red Cross to Ann street, being drawn in to 36 feet from there to Castle street on account of the shade trees, and the narrowing of the street caused a suplus of asphalt blocks, as the contractors had shipped the materials here on the belief that the street was to be made 40 feet on the way.

At this point City Attorney McClammy replied to the remarks of Dovis & Davis with regard to the purchase of the old tobacco warehouse property in the northern section of the city. Mr. McClammy read the resolution as adopted by Council at the time providing for the purchase of the property for $13,500. It was set forth in the preamble that car load after car load of sreet paving materals as arriving on the local yards of the Coast Line and that the city was in danger of having to pay out $4,000 or $5,000 demurrage charges as it had no place to store the materials. It was for the purpose of saving to the city the amount that otherwise would have been paid out to the railroad for demurrage that Council decided to purchase the property. The money, as provided by the resolution, was taken from the bond issue fund. It was a temporary transaction so far as the bond issue money was concerned, and this fact was clearly set forth in the resolution. It was provided that, if the city decided to retain the property after it was no longer needed for the purpose for which it was purchased, then the amount of the purchase price should be paid from the general fund into the street improvement fund if the city did not want the property when it was to be sold and the proceeds used to reimburse the street improvement fund, Mr McClammy said, that he had no doubt in the world but that the action of Council in this particular would be held to be right and proper by any court in the land.

Mr. Parsley said that Council had the benefit of attorneys on both sides as to the law, but that before the discussion went any further he would like to present some facts. He said that at the last regular meeting some figures were announced by Councilman P. Q Moore, of the Department of Streets and Wharves, as to the amount of money expended for streets and the amount unexpended. Mr. Parsely said that he did not know with what degree of accuracy the public regarded the statement, but as for himself he could not understand how Mr. Moore could be accurate in his figures when he had told him (Mr. Parsley) that he did not do any bookkeeping in his department. He said that he made an investigation for himself and that he found a discrepancy in the report of Councilman P. Q. Moore of about $30,000 as compared with a statement issued only a few days ago by the city clerk and treasurer. There was also a discrepancy, he said, in the amount audited for street work. He also called attention to the fact that the statement of Councilman Moore showed as assets $37,000 due from the Tidewater Power Co., but failed to show as liabilities $40,000 borrowed from the bank. According to his conclusions from the figures quoted there is a deficit of $27,000 in the street improvement fund instead of a balance of $13,500.

"Therefore," said Mr. Parsely, "this committee of citizens ask that you stop all street improvement work until you can ascertain definitely what amount, of you have on hand for street work. We are not asking that work on any one particular street be held up, but no further work be done on any of the streets until this statement is forthcoming."

Junius Davis, Esq., said that in spite of the city atorney's opoinion on the purchase of the old tobacco warehouse property with the bond issue money, he was still of the opinion that the Council did not have the right to touch the money except for permenent street work, as provided by the statute. Mayor Smith asked Mr. Davis that if in the event it was found that Council had made a mistake in its work on the streets would the difference that the Councilman, as individuals, would have to pay back go into the street improvement fund or general fund. Mr. Davis hesitated for a moment, then stated that it would go into the street improvement fund. Mayor Smith said that he just wanted to know, that so far as he was concerned he would like to see $300,000 or $400,000 more spent on the streets, and if the Councilmen could be made to "come across" with that amount Wilmington would be that much better off.

Mr. Davis said that the work done by the regular street force was not only poor, but there was no way of telling what their work had cost the city. Councilman P. Q. Moore replied to this, saying that his department could tell what every yard of paving had cost. Mr. Davis said thot he was glad to hear that this was so, but did not know it at the time he made the remark.

Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, explained the seeming discrepancy referred to by Mr. Parsley. He said on the 1st of each month a statement is prepared showing the cash on hand. Later in the month a statement is issued and includes all bills aurited for the previous month. Councilman Moore's report was probably made from cash statement as made at the 1st of the month, while the othe statement referred to was issued since the 1st regular meeting of Council. He said he could very easily understand how Mr. Parsely would get the two statements confused.

Councilman Tiencken observed that one great mistake of the bill providing for the improvement of the street was that it was not stipulated what kind of materials should be used.

Continuing his explanation, Capt. Meares seaid that with reference to $40,000 from the bank, that it was included in the $61,000 which appeared on the statement as the estimated balance needed to complete the street work. Mr. Parsley replied by saying that since the statement was made $41,000 had been paid to the contractors and that he was informed that something like $18,000 is yet due, thus accounting for about $59,000 of the $61,000, therefore, he could not for the life of him, see how the $40,000 from the bank could be included in the $61,000. Captain Meares said that this was a simple matter, that had the $40,000 not been included in the $61,000 then the statement wiuld have shown only $21,000 due the contractors. The discussion of this phase was concluded with the statement by Mr. Parsley that he would be willing to submit the question to any committee of business men and be guided by their decision as to who was right.

Mr. H. C. McQueen, president of the Murchison National Bank, and a member for a number of years of the old Board of Audit and Finance, made one of the most sensibe talks of the entire discussion. The Murchison National Bank is located on Front and Chestnut streets and Mr. MsQueen said he did not hesitate to say that he was appearing because of the interest he had in the proposition. He remarked that the citizens' committee (of which he was not a member) was present asking Council to stop doing a legal thing because it was said that at some time in the past the body had done some illegal thing, and observed that there is nothing in the law to present Council from spending more money than the bond issue fund for street imorovements, if the body sees fit to spend it. He said that he did not know whether Council had done right in the purchase of the property with bond issue money, even temporary, but if they had not they should be held to account for it. In conclusion he expressed the hope that the discussion would not defer the Council from passing the resolution upon its second and final reading.

Mr. McQueen was followed by Iredell Meares, Esq., who said that Mr. Parsley should go to the office of the city clerk and treasurer and obtain his figures and not take them from the papers. He also remarked that Mr. McQueen had struck upon the keynote, and he asserted that the city attorney was entirely right in his construction of the law in advising Council that money could be taken from the bond issue fund to purchase the property. Mr. Meares spoke in defense of the Council and asserted that thoughtless men on the streets had impugned the body and even charges of "graft" had been made. He admited that the Council, like any other body composed of human beings, was liable to make mistakes, but he deprecated the great amount of thoughtless talk being indulged in, especially where is nothing, so far as appears, to support the reports being circulated.

With regard to the property, Mayor Smith said that he was told at the time that Council was paying too much for it, but no one, not even Mr. Parsley, who was present at the meeting when the matter was being considered, suggested that Council was doing wrong in the purchase. He again expressed the utmost confidence in every member of the board and in conclusion so that it was the privilege of any citizen to go to the books of the city, ascertain the faces and give them to the world, if he desired.

Thos. W. Davis, Esq., said that he would like to disabuse the minds of members of the board of one thing—that they were there to impugn the Council. Mayor Smith replied that no member of Council thought for a moment that this was their purpose that they had known one another too long for that.

Councilman P. Q. Moore then made a motion to the effect that the resolution providing for the paving of Chesnut street, from Front to Second, be passed on its second reading. Mr. Parsley remarked that the committee was not asking that the work on any one street be held up, but that no further work be done on any streets until the statement asked for was given. He remarked that the city had already borrowed $15,000 to meet current expenses and that he was informed by Mr. Tiencken that he would have to borrow more money. Mr. McQueen said that it was a usual thing for the city to borrow money in the Summer in anticipation of the money which is due in the Fall. This, he said, was done nearly every year. The resolution was then passed upon its second and final reading by a vote of three to two. Councilmen Perdew, Tiencken and P. Q. Moore voted in the affirmative and Mayor Smith and Councilman B. C. Moore in the negative.

During the discussion of the street matter Councilman B. C. Moore stated that when Council voted last week to improve Hanover street, from Nutt to Fourth, he did not expect the work to begin until after the statement as to the status of the bond issue fund had been filed; that he had joined in the request that no further street work be done until this statement was given and that he desired to be consistent.

When the Chesnut street matter had been disposed of, the large delegation of citizens left the meeting. Other matters were then taken up. Councilman B. C. Moore suggested that the city retain about half of the old tobacco warehouse property in the northern part of the city and that one corner be used for the incinerator which is to be installed jointly by the city and county. He said that a space about 40x60 feet in size would be sufficient for the incinerator. It was decided that members of Council visit the property this morning for the purpose of passing upon the suggestion.

Attention of Thos. W. Davis, Esq., was called to an amount against the Tidewater Power Company for money advanced for street improvement. Mr. Davis, who is counsel for the company, said that he had been trying for three or four weeks to get a statement of the amount so that it could be checked up by the Tidewater Power Company and arrangements be made for settling the claim. Mr. Davis was promised the statement within a few days.

A petition was received from a large number of citizens asking that Third street, between Hanover and Harnett, be improved with some suitable paving. Another petition asked for the improvement of Bladen street, from Fourth to Fifth. Councilamn P. Q. Moore said that he could not promise anything now as the bond money is tied up, but that he would give consideration to the petition at the earliest possible moment.

A communication was received from Mr. Thos, F. McNally, chairman of the Labor Day celebration committee, asking that the Council grant the city employes a holiday next Monday, Labor Day, and that the Mayor issue a proclamation asking all citizens of Wilmington and section to join in observing the one day in the year set apart for the laboring man. As stated elsewhere in today's paper the employes of the city were granted the holiday and Mayor Smith issued a proclamation.

Mr. J. O. Hinton, of the City Steam Laundry, appeared before Council to ask what action had been taken in the matter of laundry tax. His complaint was that he is required to pay a tax of $10 a quarter, when a Chinese laundry, with practically the same privileges, pays only $6. He was informed that Council could not now change the tax ordinance and that if the Chinese laundry came under the class as the City Laundry, then the Chinaman would have to pay $10 or be liable for indictment.

Upon motion of Councilman B. C. Moore the chief of the fire department, who is also the building inspector, was instructed to notify the property owners of the recommendations of representatives of the North Carolina Fire Prevention Association who made an inspection of Wilmington some weeks ago. It is thought that if the recommendations are carried out the danger of fire will be greatly lessened.

Councilman Tiencken informed Council that it would be necessary for him to borrow $30,000 more to tide over until tax money begins to come in. It had previously been agreed that as much as $50,000, if needed, be borrowed. Of this amount $20,000 had already been borrowed, it was stated.

Sewerage Matter Up Again

The sewerage matter will not down. It bobs up again as often as it is settled. At a special meeting last Wednesday it was thought that all the details of the purchase of the existing plant by the city had been settled when the form of bond was agreed to by local counsel for the bondholders and the Wilmington Sewerage Company and Mr. Smith, of Philadelphia, chairman of the bondholders' committee. But not so. Iredell Meares, Esq., local counsel for the bondholders, was before Council again yesterday, Mr. Smith having telegraphed that upon his return to Philadelphia he ascertained that other members of the committee were not willing to accept the bond as it had been amended at the special meeting of Council. Only one clause of the bond was changed, this in effect, relieving the city of any liability in the event any State or the Nation should levy a tax on the $100,000 worth of bonds to be issued by the sewerage company to cover the amount of the mortgage the company will hold against the city on the plant. By the change the sewerage company is also relieved of paying any tax that might be levied. The way the bond was originally drawn the city would be liable in the event any tax was levied against the bonds, giving the sewerage company in interest 5 per cent net, according to the construction placed upon the clause in particular by the city attorney. Mr. Smith said in a telegram to Mr. Meares that the bondholders would stand by the form of bond as original ly submitted, but would not agree to change. In addressing Council yesterday, Mr. Meares said that he thought the importance of the clause had been exaggerated by both his clients and Mr. McClammy, and stated that one reason he was anxious for Council to accede to the demand of the bondholders in the matter of the bond was that the sewerage company would then have no excuse for not turning over the plant to the city October 1st, as agreed upon. After some discussion, during which members of Council expressed themselves as being willing to be very liberal in order to settle the matter, City Attorney McClammy said he would take the matter under advisement and see what could be done and would render his decision the latter part of the week. He said that he believed suit could be maintained against the company for failure to comply with the contract as entered into some weeks ago.

Councilman Perdew was granted a two weeks' vacation, beginning Saturday of this week.

Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt brought to the attention of Council the matter of fumigating the schools of the city and asked to be instructed as to whether the city or county health departments is to do this work. Members of Council said that they would prefer the work be done under the direction of Dr. Nesbitt because they felt it would be done better. However, it is thought that the law makes the county responsible for this work. A conference is to be held within a few days between City Attorney McClammy, Dr. Nesbitt and J. O. Carr, Esq., chairman of the County Board of Education, at which it is likely that some agreement in the matter will be reached.

A resolution was introduced providing for the sale of the property at the southwest corner of Fourth and Princess streets and the proceeds be devoted toward the installation of an incinerator; that a portion of the city property in the northern part of the city be set apart for the plant, and that the contract for an incinerator be let to the Decaire Company for $34,000. However, the resolution was not voted upon, it being decided not to take any action until another joint meeting can be held with the County Commissioners, they having agreed to pay one-fifth of the cost of installation and maintenance. The meeting will be held Friday morning and there is little doubt that the contract for the plant will be let immediately following the joint meeting.

HOLIDAY FOR CITY EMPLOYES

Council Acts on Matter and Mayor Jos. D. Smith Issues Official Labor Day Proclamation—Outing to Carolina

Acting upon a communication from the general committee on arrangements for the labor unions' outing at Carolina Beach next Monday, City Council, at its regular weekly meeting yesterday morning, voted to grant all departmental employes of the city a holiday on Labor Day, and Mayor Jos. D. Smith also issued a formal Labor Day proclamation, calling upon every citizen to do all he can toward observing the occasion as a holiday.

By the action of the Mayor and City Council all employes of the city will be given a full holiday Monday, and it is expected that many of them, with their families, will take advantage of the fact to spend the day at the labor unions' outing at Carolina Beach. It is expected that the attendance at Carolina Beach will be the largest of the season Monday.

Mayor Smith's Labor Day proclamation is as follows:

Labor Day Proclamation

"Realizing fully my limited power and rights and that this proclamation carries with it only such weight as those who understand the motive therefor and appreciate the great meaning of the occasion give to it, I do hereby call upon every citizen of this city to do what he can towards observing as a holiday, and allowing those in his employ to do so, the 2nd day of September, set aside as Labor Day, and thereby help in showing a proper recognition of the fact that while 'the farmer he must feed them all,' the other branches of labor bring us additional comforts of life, tending to make our sojourn here the more joyous, and also helping to show in 'an outward and visible way,' the tribute of true respect for those who are laborers, whether in an intellectual or bodily way, or physically or mentally, in the production of wealth, and he who looks down with contempt upon the sincere and faithful laborer, no matter how humble his work, should be looked down upon with contempt by all right thinking people.

"The man who does not labor cannot get out of this life the essence of true pleasure belonging to it, nor do his duty in the world.

"The Bible commends in highest terms the righteous laborer and all poets agree in the reward received by him in the sweetness of his sleep and his worldly increase and God, Himself, has put not only His approval upon labor but His command and has added His blessing.

"As the potter can make out of the same clay vessels of honor and dishonor, as we look at it, so there be laborers of high and low degree, in the opinion of the world, but in the eye of the Great Creator, the humble laborer is as high as the most exalted and the mortar holding the stones of the temple together is as necessary in its erection as the polished corner thereof.

"Let us all then, while the laborer is in the flesh before us and ere the sunset of life come to him and he, eternally, 'shall rest from his labor,' give up to him as a 'labor of love,' this day set apart as a compliment to him, and by resolution of Council, I do hereby declare to all laborers working for this city a holiday on said date.

"JOSEPH D. SMITH,
"Mayor of City of Wilmington, N. C.
"August 28th, 1912."

Death of Little Child.

Henry Bounds, the infant son of Mr. M. H. Bounds, died yesterday afternoon at 3: o'clock at the home of its grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Bounds, No. 908 North Fifth street, after having been ill only about a week. The child had been at the home of its grandparents since the death of its mother, about one year ago. The boy was a bright little fellow and his death comes as a grevious blow to the father and grand parents, who will have the tender sympathy of friends in their bereavment. The funeral will be held from the residence this afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. A. Sullivan. Interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

JUSTICE HARRISS' COURT

Wheels of Justice Turned Busily Yesterday—The Cases

Justice Harriss' court was a busy place yesterday, a number of cases being tried. Jim Spencer, colored, was given hearing yesterday morning on a charge of the larceny of about $13 and a watch, stick pin, and tie clasp from M. Henry, a white man. The larceny was alleged to have been committed last Sunday at Carolina Beach. Spencer is in charge of the men's bath house there and Henry alleged that when he went in bathing he turned his valuables over to the negro to be taken care of, and that he did not receive them back when he came out of the water.

The case was dismissed by Justice Harriss on the ground that Henry voluntarily turned his valuables over to the negro, and that in the event that the man did retain the property it would not constitute a larceny.

It is understood that Henry will bring a civil action against Mr. Hans Kure, owner of the bath house at the beach, for the recovery of the property alleged to have been entrusted to the negro and retained.

Geo. Mandy, Jr., and Frank Williams, colored, charged with an assault, were taxed the costs.

Ten young negro boys and men submitted to charges of disorderly conduct upon a public highway and judgment was suspended on payment of the costs and conditional upon the good behavior of the defendants for the next six months. The negroes were: Willie Berry, Jesse Hennegan, Elijah Kelly, Sam Kelly, Archie Bradley, Robert Spicer, Oscar Berry, Richard Hunter, Chas. Mosley, Alfred Murphy. The negroes created a disturbance on the East Wilmington road last Friday night. An act passed by the last Legislature makes disorderly conduct upon a public highway outside of the city limits just as much of a misdemeanor as it would be in the city.

The case against Ed. Foy, colored, charged with perjury, which was to have come up yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, was continued until Friday morning at the same hour in order to allow the defense time to summon more witnesses.

MISS CHRISSIE BLACK THE BRIDE OF DR. C. P. BOLLES

A very quiet home wedding, but one that is of interest to a host of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere, was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Dr. J. E. Matthews, No. 210 Nun street, when Miss Chrissie Black became the bride of Dr. Chas. P. Bolles, Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, officiating.

The ceremony was witnessed by only members of the immediate family and the announcement will come as a pleasurable surprise to many friends of the happy couple. Dr. Bolles is one of the most prominent physicians in the city. His bride is the daughter of the late Mr. Archie Black, and has made her home for a number of years with her uncle, Dr. J. E. Matthews, of this city.

Dr. and Mrs. Bolles will make their home at corner of Second and Nun streets.

Roseboro, N. C., Aug. 28.—Mrs. L. C. Fisher entertained Tuesday evening complimentary to Misses Edna Boyce, of Parksley, Va., and Pearl Cobb, of Lumber Bridge, N. C. The home was beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns and ferns. A "leaf" contest was played which was very amusing. The first prize was given to Miss Annie Watson and Mr. Henry Faircloth, which was presented to the guest of honor. Mr. Roy Fisher received the booby. Music was furnished by different guests, after which all were ushered into the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served. The guests departed in the wee hours of night, deeming Mrs. Fisher a most charming hostess.——Mr. Sam Hobbs, of Clinton, N. C., was in town today, to the delight of his many friends.——Dr. J. F. Highsmith, of Fayetteville, N. C., is spending a few days here with his father, Mr. Jno. Highsmith.——A good many of our citizens went over to Clinton this morning to hear Gov. Kitchin speak.

PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

A charming church wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Church of the Good Shepherd, when Mr. Edward Forbes Noe and Miss Jessie Catherine Pridgen were happily married, Rev. Thos. P. Noe, the rector, and brother of the groom, performing the ceremony in accordance with the rites of the Episcopal faith.

The wedding was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives. Mr. Israel H. Noe, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Allie Pridgen, sister of the bride, maid of honor, they being the only attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Noe left immediately after the ceremony for Beaufort, N. C., where they will spend a week or ten days on their bridal tour. On their return, they will make their home at Seagate, Greenville Sound. They will have the best wishes of a host of friends for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

BOYS RETURN FROM CAMP

High School Lads Back From the Great Smoky Mountains, Where They Spent the Summer—Records in Athletics

A party of Wilmington boys, all pupils of the High School, accompanied by Prof. Heman S. Shaw, principal of the institution, returned yesterday from Camp Cherokee, which is located in the Great Smoky Mountains, near Bryson City, N. C. The boys went into camp the 1st of July and have returned after a most delightful stay of two months in the mountains. Along with all kinds of athletics, mountain climbing and tramping the boys devoted considerable time to study so as to be in readiness for the Fall term of the different schools represented in the camp.

Men from different colleges and universities of the South were in charge of the camp and they took active part in instruction and coaching the boys in their studies and sports. Messrs. Taylor, Sandifer and Fetzer, of Woodberry Forest faculty, were the directors and owners of the camp, which is modelled after the Summer camps of the North. Hardy Todd, the famous University of Virginia athlete, showed the boys many tricks of the track, while Klutz, a former Davidson football and baseball star, looked after the baseball enthusiasts. Men from Washington and Lee, Davidson, Sewanee, University of Virginia and other colleges also were on hand to instruct the boys in their several specialties.

The youngsters who spent the happy two months among the Great Smokies came from nearly every State in the South. The largest representation from any one place was that of Memphis, Tenn. Twelve boys came from that city. Wilmington came next with ten. Thos from Wilmington were: John and Calvin Wells, Heiskell Gouverneur, Dougall and Louis MacMillan, Charles and Robert Burnett, Will Monroe, Roy Craig and Roy Polvogt. Several of the party remained in the mountains with relatives at different resorts.

The last few days of camp were spent in different ahtletic contests to determine the best athletes. In the water sports the Wilmington boys excelled. In the 50-yard swimming race for the Juniors, Calvin Wells won third place. In the 35-yard swimming race for the "Midgets," Louis MacMillan won second place. The distance dive under water was won by Charles Burnett with Robert Burnett second. The Senior boat race was won by Chas. Burnett, rowing, and L. MacMillan, steering, with Robt. Burnett and Heiskell Gouverneur, second. In the Junior race Craig and Wells won first place. In the "Midget" rowing race, L. MacMillan and Heiskell Gouverneur won second place.

The track events were hotly contested, Robert Burnett, for Wilmington, starred, winning four first places and one third place. John Wells also made a good record in the track events. In the Junior track events Calvin Wells won four first places and one third. Roy Craig won a place in the 1,000-yard dash. In the "Midget" class Dougall and Louis MacMillan won five places.

The Wilmington boys may be proud of their athletic records. They competed against good athletes from such schools as Woodberry Forest, Fishburne, New Jersey Military Academy, Memphis University School, Rugby of New Orleans; Stone Mountain, Bingham and other noted preparatory schools.

An attractive feature of the Summer's vacation was the mountain tramps. These tramps were made to places of interest through the mountains and took sometimes one or more days. Tramps to Lake Toxaway, Andrews Bald, the Cherokee Indian Reservation and over into the Tennessee mountains, were some of these taken. The weather in the mountains required the use of blankets and extra wraps.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The steamer City of Fayetteville, Capt. Bradshaw, which has been tied up in Fayetteville for the past few weeks, owing to the low water in the Cape Fear river, arrived yesterday afternoon from Fayetteville and will leave on the return trip some time today.

"IDLEWILD" MADE HIT

New Sub-division Found Instant Favor With Buying Public

"Idlewild," the attractive new suburb on the turnpike opposite Audubon, which was placed on the market yesterday morning by Messrs. Wilder & Metts, met with an instant and hearty reception from the buying public, about 20 of the handsome lots being sold yesterday. All day long the automobiles from the office of Wilder & Metts were carrying prospective purchasers down to see the property, and few came back without closing a deal for one or more of the lots. Several purchased two lots.

The sale will continue actively until all the lots in the sub-division are disposed of, and the automobiles at Princess street office are at the service of those who care to look over the property. From the start made yesterday, it appears that the lots will not be on the market long.

The Recorder's Court.

Three cases composed the docket in the Recorder's court yesterday, two of them against the same defendant. James Henderson, colored, was convicted on a charge of an assult upon a female, Florence Everett, colored, and was sentenced to three months on the county roads. Hill King, colored, was arrested Tuesday night on a charge of being drunk. A rusty razor was found in his pocket when he was taken to police headquarters, and he was assessed a fine of $10 and cost for carrying a concealed weapon. Judgment in the case charging drunkenness was suspended on payment of the costs.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Mr. E. C. Williams and family, of Clinton, are spending a week or two at the beach.

Mrs. Roger Moore, of Wilmington, is spending a few days at the cottage of Mrs. William Parsley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Leitner returned yesterday to their residence in the city, after spending the Summer at the Seashore Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Williams returned yesterday to their home in Charlotte, after a stay of some days at the Hanover Inn.

Miss Edith Bowran, of Birmingham, Ala., returned yesterday afternoon to her home, after a stay of several weeks at the Seashore Hotel.

Mr. R. B. Babington and family, of Gastonia, who have been spending some time at the Hanover Inn, returned yesterday afternoon to their home.

A large crowd attended the midweek dance at Lumina last night. There was a large number from the city as well as from the hotels, boarding houses and cottages on the beach.

Mrs. M. L. Sibley and daughter, Miss Sibley, and Miss McDavid and Miss Ryan, returned yesterday to their home at Birmingham, Ala., after spending some time at the beach.

Mr. P. R. Camp, who spent the past two weeks at the Oceanic Hotel, left yesterday for his home at Franklin, Va. Mr. Camp and a party of friends expect to leave in a few days for an automobile trip through Virginia, Maryland and New Jersey. They enjoyed a similar outing last Summer.

Mr. E. C. Boyer, of Baltimore; T. H. Carmine and C. T. Weatherly, of Faison, went out from the Oceanic Hotel yesterday morning in the launch Suwannee, Capt. Salter, and in one hour (and Mr. J. A. Fountain kept the time) the anglers caught 91 fine trout and many other smaller fish. The party fished just outside the inlet.

Arrivals yesterday at the Seashore Hotel included: W. E. Thomas, Rockingham; C. G. Spencer, Asheboro; A. J. Crompton, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Garrett, Mrs. M. M. Moore, Bennettsville, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Croom, Dr. G. H. Croom, Burgaw; Mrs. H. B. Maxwell and daughter, Whiteville; Miss Sallie Smith, Miss Virginia Smith, Elkton; J. O. Maultsby and daughter, Luther McKenzie and sister, Whiteville.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Nettles, Florence, S. C.; F. H. Webber, Atlanta; J. H. Crawford, Clinton, N. C., were among the arrivals yesterday at the Oceanic Hotel. Manager Couch stated yesterday afternoon that he had about 100 guests, and this number would be increased, probably doubled, the latter part of the week. From the number of inquiries he is receiving from persons who have not yet had their vacations, Mr. Couch is confident that the hotel will be well filled until late in the month of September.

Announcement was posted in the lobby of the Seashore Hotel yesterday morning that after breakfast Saturday morning the main dining room of the hotel will be closed for the season, but that meals will be served the guests at the cafe directly across the car tracks from the hotel. The main portion of the hotel will be closed, but one wing will be kept open for guests for several weeks yet. Capt. Hinton, the manager, announced yesterday that the pier would be open for fishing after Monday of next week. The pier will be in charge of a man who will have plenty of bait and fishing tackle for the anglers. Every Fall the pier is lined nearly every day with anglers and some fine catches are made.

LABOR DAY SERMON

Local Unions Will Attend Services At Fifth Street Church

At a meeting last night the general Labor Day committee of the Wilmington labor unions, decided to attend divine services at Fifth Street Methodist church Suunday, Sept. 1st, following the announcement of the pastor, Rev. G. T. Adams, that he will deliver a Labor Day sermon on that occasion.

Mr. Adams is an enthusiastic advocate of conservative organized labor, and his position is very much appreciated by the laboring people, who will no doubt attend the services Sunday in large numbers.

The following committee was appointed last night to arrange details and to indict a letter of thanks to Mr. Adams: J. Dana Jones, B. J. Bryant, Jr., C. C. Wilson, Jas. Nicholson, A. H. Ambrosiania and Ira G. Upchurch.

Move to Garrell Building

In an advertisement elsewhere in today's issue, Creese & Creese, chiropractic physicians and nerve specialists, announce the removal of their office from 304 South Second street to rooms 32 and 33, Garrell building, where they will be open today. Drs. Leland and Lillian Creese are much pleased over the success with which they have met since coming to Wilmington and they expect to make this city their home, devoting their time to their rapidly growing practice.

Married Yesterday Morning

Mr. Seth Gurganus and Mrs. Vera Eason, both of Bladen county, were happily married yesterday morning in the office of Justice G. W. Bornemann, the "Judge" officiating in his most impressive manner. The ceremony was witnessed by a few pedestrians who dropped in the office. Mr. and Mrs. Gurganus left immediately after the wedding for their home in Bladen county. Their friends will wish for them a happy married life.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS TONIGHT

Hon. W. W. Kitchin Arrived in City Last Evening and Spent Night at Oceanic Hotel, on Beach—Address at City Hall

Hon. William Walton Kitchin, Governor of the State of North Carolina and one of the three distinguished candidates for the United States Senatorship, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock and was met by a delegation of friends and admirers. The Governor proceeded to the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, where he spent the night. He will return to the city this morning and spend the day at The Orton, and tonight at 8:30 o'clock will address the voters of Wilmington and New Hanover county from the portico at the City Hall.

Governor Kitchin was not expected here until this morning at 10 o'clock, when it had been planned to have a large delegation of representative citizens to meet him at the station. However, it was learned about 15 minutes before the arrival of the train that he had been able to catch his train at Clinton, where he spoke yesterday, and would arrive at 6 o'clock. As short as the time was, a number of the Governor's friends gathered at the station and were on hand to welcome him when he alighted from the train. Among those in the party were Messrs. W. E. Springer, C. N. Evans, J. H. Cowan, R. R. Stone, B. O. Stone, W. C. Denny, O. L. Browne, Dr. D. W. Bulluck and others.

After a short conference with his friends Governor Kitchin went to Wrightsville Beach to obtain a quiet and refreshing night's rest. He was accompanied to the Oceanic by a number of his friends who spent the evening with him there.

He will return to the city this morning and will be at The Orton Hotel at 10 o'clock, where he will be glad to see his friends. He will be entertained on automobile rides around the city and over the country roads during the day.

He will open his address at 8:30 o'clock this evening. If the weather conditions are favorable he will speak from the steps on the Third street side of the City Hall, and if not he will deliver his address in the Academy of Music. However, it is hoped that the weather will be favorable. Seats will be provided for all on the lawn at the City Hall, and arrangements have been made to have the place well lighted for the occasion. Two bands, the Delgado Band and the Cape Fear Independent Band, will be on hand to enliven the occasion and lend enthusiasm with their music. Seats will be provided for the ladies and as Wilmington ladies, along with those of all other cities and States, are taking a keen interest in politics in this generation, the fair sex will no doubt be out in full force to hear the distinguished speaker.

The present Senatorial campaign has not been altogether without its interesting episodes and the discussions have been slightly warm at times. While the speeches of the candidates, and the arguments presented by them, have received wide publicity in the State press, there are nevertheless, hundreds in Wilmington who will welcome the opportunity of hearing Governor Kitchin present his case personally. They will be on hand tonight in large numbers.

Governor Kitchin will leave Friday morning for Elkton, Bladen county, where he will deliver another speech. He spoke to an audience of from 700 to 800 at Kenansville Tuesday night and another large crowd at Clinton yesterday.

Funeral of Mrs. Fales.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Fales, whose death occurred Tuesday, was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, from the late residence, No. 804 South Seventh street. Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, conducted the services, which were attended by a large number of sorrowing friends. Interment was made in Bellevue cemetery, and the grave was covered with a number of handsome floral tributes.

UNUSUAL OFFER

Sell Dr. Howard's Specific at Half Price and Guarantee a Cure

"It isn't often that we have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said J. Hicks Bunting to a Wilmington man who dropped into their store, "but we are glad to sell Dr. Howard's Specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard Company in order to get quick introductory sale authorizes us to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half price, 25 cents, and although we have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

We are still selling the Specific at half price, although we cannot tell how long we shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the Specific that they can come right back to our store and we will cheerfully refund their money.

..Theatrical..

The Bijou is always doing something exceptional and novel, and for that reason the popular theatre is ever attractive, and getting more and more popular every year. So it is no surprise that the Bijou will today offer the great photoplay, "The Prison Ship." However, the tidings of this feature, which has been hailed as one of the most novelly sensational ever manufactured, will be received with gladness and will, no doubt, act as a big magnet today. "The Prison Ship" tells a tale of Continental days, and the scenes on the ship are really instructive, as well as entertaining. The young American officer, the star of the film, makes a daring escape and drops into the waiting boat alongside the ship. His escape is discovered and then takes place a thrilling race on the water. But the officer manages to reach the ranks of his friends and a fight ensues with the British Marines, who are finally repulsed. It is a stirring, unique film, and should be seen.

Another big dramatic success is on today in "The New Ranch Foreman." It is a tale of Western life, but does not savor of Indian days. It tells a rugged, virile, novel story, that will appeal to all and set the blood a-tingling.

All the other films for today are really topliners, and are the latest and best. Of course, the usual solid comfort of the Bijou will be dispensed with lavish hand, while the same old price, 5 cents, will hold forth, whether you visit the amusement palace this afternoon or tonight.

The Old Homestead.

America's greatest success, dear to millions the country over, comes to the Academy of Music Tuesday night, September 4th. This is Denman Thompson's famous idyl of New England, "The Old Homestead." This celebrated drama of New England rural life is now in its twenty-seventh year of uninterrupted success. When we look back upon the years that have intervened since "The Old Homestead" was first produced at the Boston theatre in April, 1886, it seems incredible that this same, simple domestic drama, dealing as it does, with scenes and incidents which are in no way remarkable in themselves, shodld in his theatrical season of 1912-13 be still one of the best drawing cards in the theatrical world. Millions of people have witnessed it during the past 26 years and yet the theater-going public has not yet tired of dear Uncle Josh, of Cy. Prime and Seth Perkins, Aunt Matilda, Ed. Ganzey, Happy Jack, Rickety Ann and the others. The singing of the double quartete of farm hands and grand chorus of 20 voices in the Grace church ecene is looking forward to with as much interest as of yore, and the scenic equipment this season is as beautiful and effective as ever. The original company under the personal direction of Mr. Frank Thompson will be seen here. Capacity houses will undoubtedly welcome the grand old play.

At The Grand Theatre

"In the Tents of the Asra," a tale of wild, chaotic Arabian love, suggested by Rubenstein's song, "The Asra," written and produced for the Selig people by Bosworth, is the feature offering in the moveys at the Grand Theatre today and this evening and it should prove a winning attraction.

Of Oriental beauty and splendor, presenting a strong story that will rivet the attention of the hearer from beginning to end, this film should pack the house at all performances today. There is a fascination about the Oriental courts and beauties that will appeal to everyone and this picture above all others should be seen today.

Something entirely different, but equally as interesting, is "Broncho Billy's Pal," by the Essanay people. It is one of the finest, most powerful subjects of this great Western series so popular the world over. Mr. G. M. Anderson will be seen in his famous character creation of "Broncho Billy," which is known throughout three hemispheres.

In addition to these two there will be still a third film, always delightful music by the Grand orchestra and a pleasantly cool and well ventilated theatre. The price is only five cents and at this figure, the doors should never open but to increasing crowds each day.

MR. G. W. SPOONER DEAD

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at James Walker Memorial Hospital

Friends will deeply regret to learn of the death of Mr. G. W. Spooner, of Greenville Sound, which occurred yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. Mr. Spooner had been ill for a long time and his death was not unexpected. He was 24 years of age and is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Spooner, of Greenville Sound, and also by a wife and two children, likewise of Greenville Sound. All the bereaved ones will have the sympathy of friends in their sorrow.

The remains were prepared for burial in the city and were later taken to the home at Greenville Sound, where the funeral service was held yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in the family burying ground.

Close Jacksonville Draw

The War Department has authorized the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Co., to close the draw in its railroad bridge across the New river at Jacksonville, N. C., on September 4th, 5th and 6th, 1912, in order to make necessary repairs to the sub-structure. Notice to this effect was given yesterday by Maj. H. W. Stickle, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Dear Amy:—

Of course, you absolutely MUST have a nice parlor so you can entertain company. But I believe in having a nice parlor for your own family all of the time, and that they should use it. Children are influenced so much by their surroundings, and the best way to keep the boys at home nights, and out of mischief, is to make home attractive and happy for them.

When Baby John grows up, he shall have a nice home.

Your chum, LOU.

COTTON PRICES BREAK AGAIN

An Early Decline Carried the Market Into New Low Ground But Demand Developed Later and Prices Rallied

New York, Aug. 28.—An early decline carried the cotton market into new low ground for the movement today, but a good demand developed around 10¾ cents for January contracts and prices later rallied, with the close very steady, net two points higher to three points lower. The opening was barely steady, at a decline of 6 to 9 points under liquidation by some of yesterday's late buyers, who were probably disappointed by relatively easy Liverpool cables. Offerings were pretty well taken right after the call and fluctuations were more or less irregular during the morning, but a little later there was heavy selling by leading trade interests.

Prices broke to a net loss of 13 points under this pressure, with December contracts selling at 10.87 and January 10.75, or a couple of points under yesterday's low record.

The cotton offered was absorbed by an active demand from shorts or for the account of spinners, and as soon as the selling movement slackened, prices rallied to a shade over the closing figures of last night. Business which had been comparatively quiet early in the day became active on the break, and continued in considerable volume during the later trading, when the market seemed to be very nervous and unsettled.

Local traders expressed a favorable view of the day's weather and crop news, although the rally in the late trading was stimulated by unconfirmed rumors of a Gulf storm approaching the belt.

Receipts, 14,443 bales, against 5,751 last week, and 3,833 last year. Today's receipts, at New Orleans, 735, against 2,637 last year, and at Houston, 12,451, against 17,502 last year.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 11.25; middling gulf, 11.50; no sales. Cotton futures closed very steady.

MOB KILLS PRIEST

Shot a Policeman Dead In Aldeia, Portugal

Lisbon, August 27.—Dispatches received here today from the Portugese town of Aldeia, Obispo, tell of putting to death of a priest by an infuriated mob.

The parish priest, it is alleged, attempted to conduct a funeral without the traditional burial rites and the authorities and people of the town objected. In the suffle which ensued, the priest, whose surplice was torn, beat an elderly man and was placed under arrest. On the pretext of changing his surplice before accompanying an officer, the priest went to the Presbytery and procured a revolver with which he shot the policeman dead.

The inhabitants, infuriated by this act, stormed the personage and after seizing the priest lynched him. Burial of the boy, which was horribly mutilated in the local cemetery, was opposed by the angry crowd.

Whenever a child eats matches it may be that it feels the need of a light diet.

HEAVY SELLING OF STOCKS

Market Was Strong In Face of Heavy and Persistent Selling—Pressure On Reading and United States Steel

New York, Aug. 28.—The most conspicuous feature of today's stock market for the greater part of the session was its underlying strength in the face of persistent and heavy selling. Pressure centered largely around Reading and United States Steel, but that did not prevent the latter from establishing its best price of the year.

Dealings in the stocks named overshadowed all others in volume, the Harriman and Hill issues, as well as Coppers and other speculative favorites showing relative neglect. In the late trading business fell away with frequent periods of utter stagnation, but another selling movement ensued shortly before the close, which sent many leading issues a point or more under the preceding day's final quotations, greatest weakness being displayed by Union Pacific, Lehigh Valley and Amalgamated Copper.

Gossip attributed much of the selling of coolers to leading out of town interests, with a revival of reports that the Inter-State Commerce Commission is soon to render an important decision affecting those properties. The roads embraced in the Canadian group were under restraint, as a result of advices from Canada indicating increasing governmental opposition to Canadian Pacific's proposed capital increase.

Louisville & Nashville and Atlantic Coast Line were strong on lyight dealings, in connection with the approaching meeting of the directors of the first named, at which developments favorable to shareholders are expected. Rock Island issues, Erie, first preferred, Great Northern Ore Certificates and other stocks of a more miscellaneous character shared in the early rise, only to fall back towards the close.

Local banks suffered another drain of cash, with a $1,300,000 gold shipment to Canada. A light stiffening of long maturities was reported.

Total sales, 324,400 shares.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,520,000.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Aug. 28.—Small repeat orders from the jobbers on various lines of cotton goods were the feature of the primary market. No changes were made in the cost of finished goods. A fairly good quantity of 27-inch brown drills was sold for October-December delivery, ¾c. under recent market quotations. Gray goods of print cloth construction ruled quiet and steady. Hosiery and underwear were active for prompt delivery. Cotton yarns were quiet and fairly steady.

MRS. TOM'S PART IN THE ELECTION

Governor Marshall's Wife Has the Memory for Names.

ROMANCE OF THEIR LIVES

The Notification of the Indiana Executive For Democratic Vice Presidency Honors a Record Breaker.

By J. C. HAMMOND,
Of Democratic National Publicity Bureau.

Indianapolis.—Just about the time that thousands of friends of Governor Thomas Riley Marshall were anxiously wanting to shake his hand in congratulation on his acceptance as candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket, a smiling woman stepped before him, and if one could have heard what she whispered in his ear it would have been something like "Now, hurry in, Tom, and change your clothes."

And Tom Marshall forgot to shake hands with the enthusiastic friends until he had carried out the orders of Mrs. Tom.

Indiana has honored four of her sons as vice presidential candidates on the Democratic ticket, but the crowds that greeted Governor Marshall in the big coliseum in the state fair grounds, Indianapolis, on Tuesday were the greatest in the history of the party.

The west wanted to show the east what could be done in notification honors, and, while Mrs. Marshall was happy, of course, over the honors for her husband, she was also worried, for her husband comes mighty close to being father, husband, son and partner all in one. And when a woman has that combination on her hands to care for she has every right to be worried.

Governor Marshall will never gain any honors as a hammer thrower. He is not built that way.

While all the country was reading the vigorous words of Governor Marshall which told the voters what he expects Democracy to do in carrying out the pledges for the next four years it's worth while to know what part a woman is taking in the affairs of the campaign—how Tom Marshall happens to be in the position in which he stands today.

The good people of Columbia City, Ind., never thought Thomas Riley Marshall was a "marrying man." For forty years he had lived with his parents, nursing both his father and mother, who were invalids, which was the reason Governor Marshall was not a marrying man. He felt his first duty was to his parents.

Meeting Mrs. Marshall.

After the death of his parents Governor Marshall dived deeper into his law practice, and one day an urgent case took him to Angola, Ind. His duties called him to the county clerk's office, and there he met Miss Lois Kimsey, daughter of the county clerk, who was assisting her father in the office.

From that day Governor Marshall had more business around the country clerk's office in Angola than any lawyer in half a dozen nearby counties.

Governor Marshall was forty-two years of age when he was married, Mrs. Marshall being nearly twenty years his junior.

The Marshalls had been married only a few weeks when the future vice president was called to an adjoining county on a case that would consume some five or six weeks of his time.

"Now, I did not want to be starting off like that," Governor Marshall explained to a friend one day, "so I just told Mrs. Marshall that I thought she should go along. And she did."

Since then Governor Marshall has never made a trip without Mrs. Marshall going along. They have traveled all over the country together; they go to banquets and political meetings together until the friends of the Indiana executive refer to him and his wife as the "pards."

"Tom Marshall is not overstrong," explained one of his friends. "While not a delicate man, his constitution is not of the most vigorous type.

"When he gets into a political battle he forgets his weakness. He gives all that is in him, and that will tell on any man. Mrs. Marshall soon discovered that the governor would become heated in making a speech and the next day his voice would be husky. She decided that he had better give up some of the handshaking and take care of his health first. So when you find him making a speech, when he has finished he does not stay around to hear the applause of the audience. Rather, he hurries to his room and changes his clothing.

"Some people have said that Tom Marshall is not a handshaking politician. He is not. His wife thinks it is more important to guard his health than to carry out the old time policy, and she is correct, as she is in most all other things."

"Home Air" Prevails.

The Marshall home is typical of the mistress. It is a home of books, and still one does not feel "bookish." One of the Marshall friends said he always felt like eating when he entered the Marshall home in Columbia City or the executive mansion at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Marshall believes in a home first, and the "home air" prevails.

"If Governor Marshall ever occupied the White House people would not know that historic institution," declares an admirer. "Mrs. Marshall would have it a real home. People would feel comfortable even in the midst of the gold and glitter."

But it is not only as a wife and the mistress of a home that Mrs. Marshall shows her ability. She is a politician and a clever one. She also has a remarkable memory.

Governor Marshall has earned the reputation of being in a class of story tellers all by himself. He can remember stories, but he forgets names. A name is something to be cast aside with Governor Marshall, and this is one of the regrets of his life, if he has any regrets. The governor is not a worrying man. He is somewhat a fatalist, but if he could he would like to remember names; but, not having that ability, he does not worry, for Mrs. Marshall is the name remembrer of the family.

She has a peculiar ability along this line. Not only does she remember the last name, but any combination of names comes as second nature to her, and she carries this ability on down to the children and cousins of any one seeking the governor.

While the governor is shaking hands and trying to remember whether his caller is Jones or Smith, Mrs. Marshall is busy supplying the information and asking about all the relatives.

Ideal Partners.

Governor Marshall has no brothers or sisters, and his parents being dead leaves him somewhat barren of relatives.

Governor Marshall's friends are enthusiastic over his home life. When he has started on talking of his wife a new light in the Hoosier executive comes to the surface.

They come near being ideal married partners.

"I was talking to Tom one day," explained one of his most intimate friends. "We were leaning back, and Tom had been telling some of his good stories to illustrate various topics of our conversation. We were waiting for Mrs. Marshall to come back from a shopping tour, and I happened to remark that I liked Mrs. Marshall better every time I met her.

" 'Well, now that's the way she strikes me, Jim,' he said, 'We have been married some sixteen years, and as time goes that is a long or short period, just as you think. To me it is but a fleeting day. Then I think back over my married life and find I have grown to know Mrs. Marshall better every day. A man must not only love but he must also respect his partner in this life—respect her in all things. She must have wonderful qualities to make the love and respect grow deeper and better each day. That's been my history.

" 'The fact that Mrs. Marshall has been in sympathy in my work, my play, my life, is good. But I have been in sympathy with hers. Ours is not a one sided life. We have been partners, and that's the way it should be in this world.' "

Mrs. Marshall has watched over his administration of the affairs of Indiana with a jealous care. There has been nothing of the spectacular in his administration. It has been a sane government. The laws that he has fought for and won show the spirit of the man. They are uplifting. They deal with the improvement of man, woman and child.

While Governor Marshall is described as a "tender hearted" executive, nevertheless, he is a fighter. He belongs to the old fighting stock of Virginia.

Governor Marshall is not a dodger. He has his opinions, and he lets them be known. While he is an organization man, he knows that organizations are not perfect—that they can make mistakes. If they make mistakes he thinks it is his duty to say so and get the saying over at the first possible moment.

The Trials of a Traveler.

"I am a traveling salesman," writes E. E. Youngs, E. Berkshire, Vt., "and was often troubled with constipation and indigestion till I began to use Dr. King's New Life Pills, which I have found an excellent remedy." For all stomach, liver or kidney troubles they are unequaled. Only 25 cents at R. R. Bellamy.

ican troops, and the submission of the issues of the revolution to an election. Dr. Doyle declined to receive Urgate officials and advised him to submit any of his proposals through Senor Castrillo, the Nicaraguan minister.

A general Central American outbreak, as a result of the Nicaraguan situation entered into the fears of the department tonight. A belated dispatch from Minister Weitzel refers to an "eruption of refugees of the late Zelayan regime from Honduras into Nicaragua."

This was taken by the department to presage a widening of revolutionary operations which might become general in Central America.

Situation Critical In Nicaragua

Corinto, Nica., Tuesday Aug. 27.—Commander Warren G. Terhune and a force of 200 American sailors and marines from the gunboat Annapolis and the collier Justin, now lying in Corinto harbor, today succeeded in making their way through territory controlled by the revolutionaries to Leon, the town midway between the Pacific coast and Lake Managua, where the Liberals rose in arms on August 19th and in the dead of night massacred the sleeping soldiers of the garrison.

The Americans found the Liberals hostile to their advances and it became necessary for Commander Terhune to threaten to attack Leon before the insurgents would allow the train bearing his detachment to enter the town. Rioting had subsided and the Americans found the city resuming its normal aspect.

After conferring with the Liberal leaders Commander Terhune withdrew his force from the city, 100 marines proceeding to Managua, the capital, and the remainder of the detachment returning to Corinto.

Corinto has been designated as a place of refuge for the foreigners residing in the surrounding country. An armed force landed from the gunboat Annapolis is constantly patrolling the streets and a number of six-pound guns have been taken from the warships and mounted on flat cars for the defense of the city.

The revolutionaries control Chinandega, a city with a population of about 12,000 and the capital of a department of the same name, and it is one of the chief desires of the rebels to capture Corinto, which is Chinandaga port and which it is connected by rail.

All attempts of the insurgents to capture this seaport so far have been prevented by the armed force from the Annapolis, the officers of which are determined to protect the lives of the women residents.

Managua is the only large city in the Northern department with the exception of Corinto, to remain under the control of the government forces. Advices reaching here from the capital say that all is quiet there.

MINERS DON'T CARE TO WORK

Holidays and After Pay Day—Production Seriously Affected

New York, August 28.—A curious phase of the anthracite mining situation now is the tendency of the workers to take frequent holidays despite their idleness for nearly two months during the suspension period in April and May. It was generally supposed that the lack of work then would make such inroads upon savings that the men would be eager to have continuous employment for a long time to come.

The opposite proves to be the case, however. The operators are finding it hard to run the mines steadily—as they wish to do now because of the extraordinary demand for anthracite. The difficulty has become so pronounced lately that it is causing unusual comment in the anthracite region. The Hazleton, Pa., Standard, a newspaper published in the heart of the region, says:

"How to keep the miners at work steadily after pay day is a problem with which the officials of the various coal companies are now wrestling but which they are unable to solve. Following each pay day, a number of the miners remain away from work for a period of two and three days; this very seriously handicaps the operations, particularly at this time when there is such an enormous demand for coal. At many of the places all sorts of overtures have been made to the men to have them come out after pay day, and while they almost always promise to do so their promises are seldom fulfilled.

"At one of the mines yesterday there were just 32 miners. Men who cut coal remained away out of two of the slopes, and the amount of coal produced from these two slopes was very meagre. The bosses argue the question with these men pro and con, but they are just wise enough to know that their services are very badly needed and they do about as they please, so far as reporting for work the day after pay day is concerned.

"It is truly a problem and if anyone is wise enough to solve it the chances are that he might be able to earn a neat sum if he will impart it to some of the operators. If you ask these men why they are not at work, they simply give you the shrug, and tell you thye are just a little bit tired, and not infrequently some of them will tell you that they are enjoying their vacation."

BREAK MARRIAGE RECORD

Negro Slave 108 Years Old Weds Woman Aged Seventy-three

Patterson, N. J., Aug. 28.—All known marriage records, so far as the age of the contracting parties is concerned, were broken here today when Timothy Griffin, 108 years old, and Lucy Woody, 73, were wedded by a minister. Griffin and his bride nominally have been married for more than 50 years, having been slaves on the same plantation in North Carolina before the war, and according to the negro man's story, having entered into the connbuial state by the old slave custom of jumping over a broom stick. Recently they decided upon a religious ceremony, however belated.
